SHers Find Spirit in Campus Life;

As the 1970-71 school year began, students involved themselves in spirited campus activities, such as plays, pep rallies, and football and basketball games. The Student Council Variety Show, Spirit Week, the ROTC Military Ball, the All-Sports Banquet, and the Junior-Senior Prom highlighted the year. No matter which organization was planning an activity, every moment at SH was busy. UIL music, sports, and literary events were other activities in which SHers participated. Cherokee cagers clinched the regional championship by defeating the Jefferson Mustangs 63-50.

While students concentrated on school affairs, the school year progressed rapidly. Seniors, with intentions turned toward pursuing college educations and careers, found themselves releasing their upperclass position to juniors upon their May 26 graduation.

STUDENT LIFE

THE START OF THE SCHOOL YEAR WAS MUCH THE SAME, CHEROKEE SAM STOOD PROUDLY BEARING HIS NAME.
WITH OUR SPIRIT GROWING AT AN ANXIOUS RATE,
PROJECTS AND CLUB MEETINGS WERE MARKED ON THE SLATE.
BUT IN THE MIDST OF ACTIVITIES, STUDENTS SOON FOUND
THAT TIME FOR MID-TERM EXAMS HAD SUDDENLY ROLLED AROUND.
THEN CAME RESEARCH PAPERS, AND PROBLEMS GREW,
BUT RELAXATION CAME AFTER THEY WERE DUE.
CHEROKEE SAM WAS PROVIDED WITH ENTERTAINMENT GALORE - FROM BANQUET HALLS TO BALLROOMS, SOMETHING WAS ALWAYS IN STORE.
WHEN FROM OUR LIVES AT SH IT WAS TIME TO TURN AWAY,
WE HAD TO REALIZE THAT WE COULD NO LONGER STAY.
BUT THE MONTHS WERE FILLED WITH BOTH WORK AND FUN
BY THE CHEROKEE TRIBE OF '71!

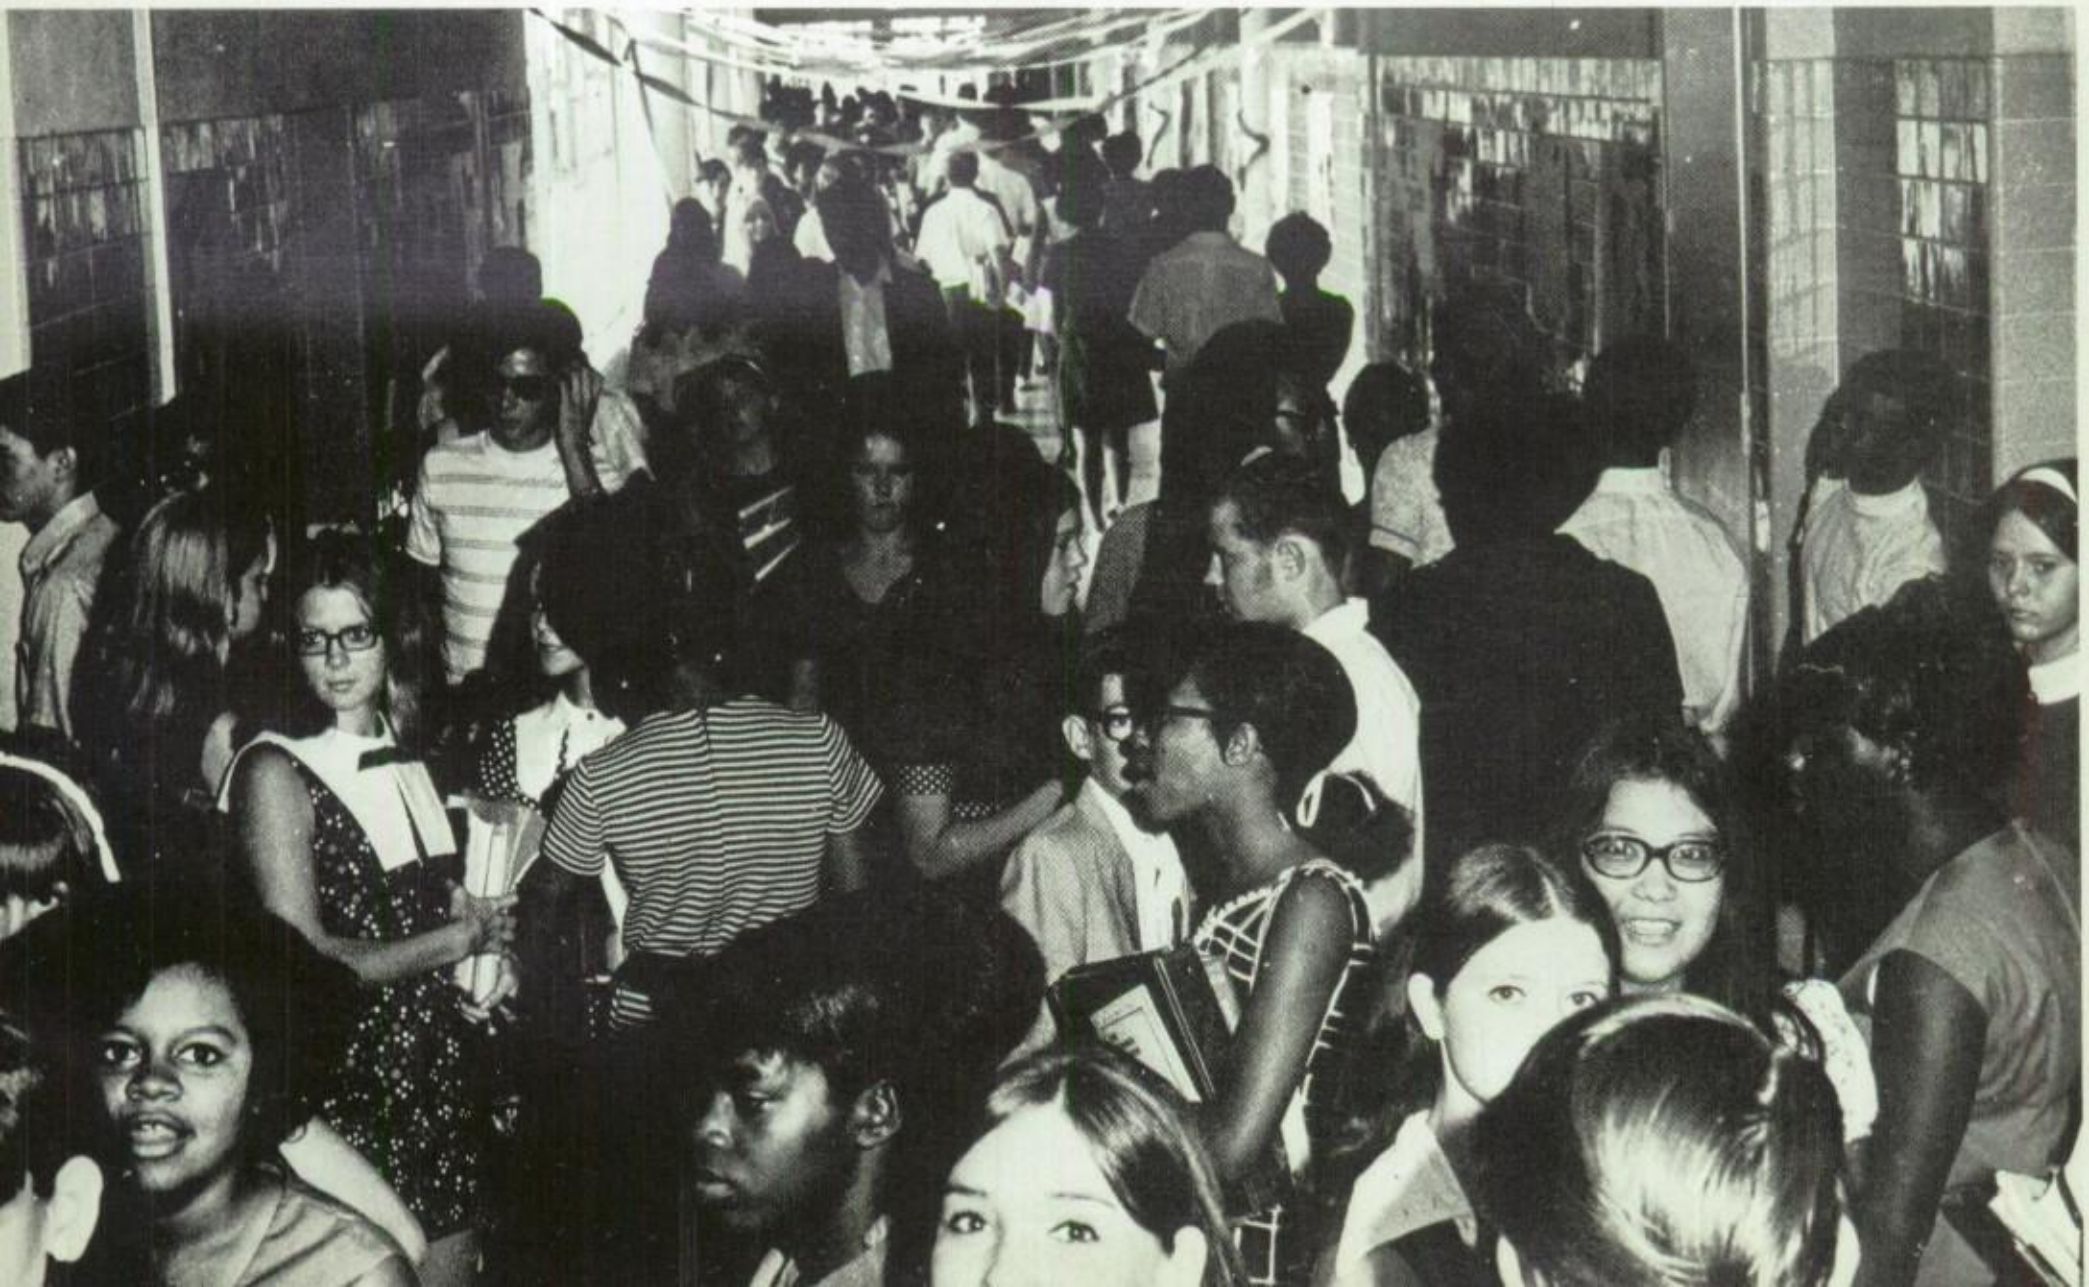
September Activates Student Life

As summer faded into fall, the Cherokee nation, with its enrollment of 2218 students, gradually transformed itself into a united Indian reservation. September brought many changes to SH. Mr. Frank Clark, principal-elect, headed a new administrative organization of three units, foundation, college preparatory, and vocational and technical divisions. This new program was designed to provide each student with a saleable skill or for college entrance.

Aside from academic responsibilities, students involved themselves in spirited activities of various clubs and organizations. A barrage of candy, license plate, ribbons, and notebook sales characterized the first month of school. Also, many students journeyed to Corpus Christi for the only out-of-town football game.

RIGHT: "Aw, hurry up!" sighs Beverly Thomas as she impatiently waits for Howard Windham, bookroom assistant, to issue her books. BELOW: Sam Houstonites crowd the halls as they hurriedly change classes before the tardy bell.



October Incites Cherokee Spirit

October found many SHers engaged in testing programs for placement in college. Others attended district conventions. Students also received identification cards used for admission to school activities. Spirit Week saw SHers enthusiastically participating in the door, car, and bulletin board decorating contests. This week culminated in the "Spirit Week Experience" dance. Football games and pep rallies occupied students' attention during October. Also, this month marked the end of the first nine weeks' grading period.

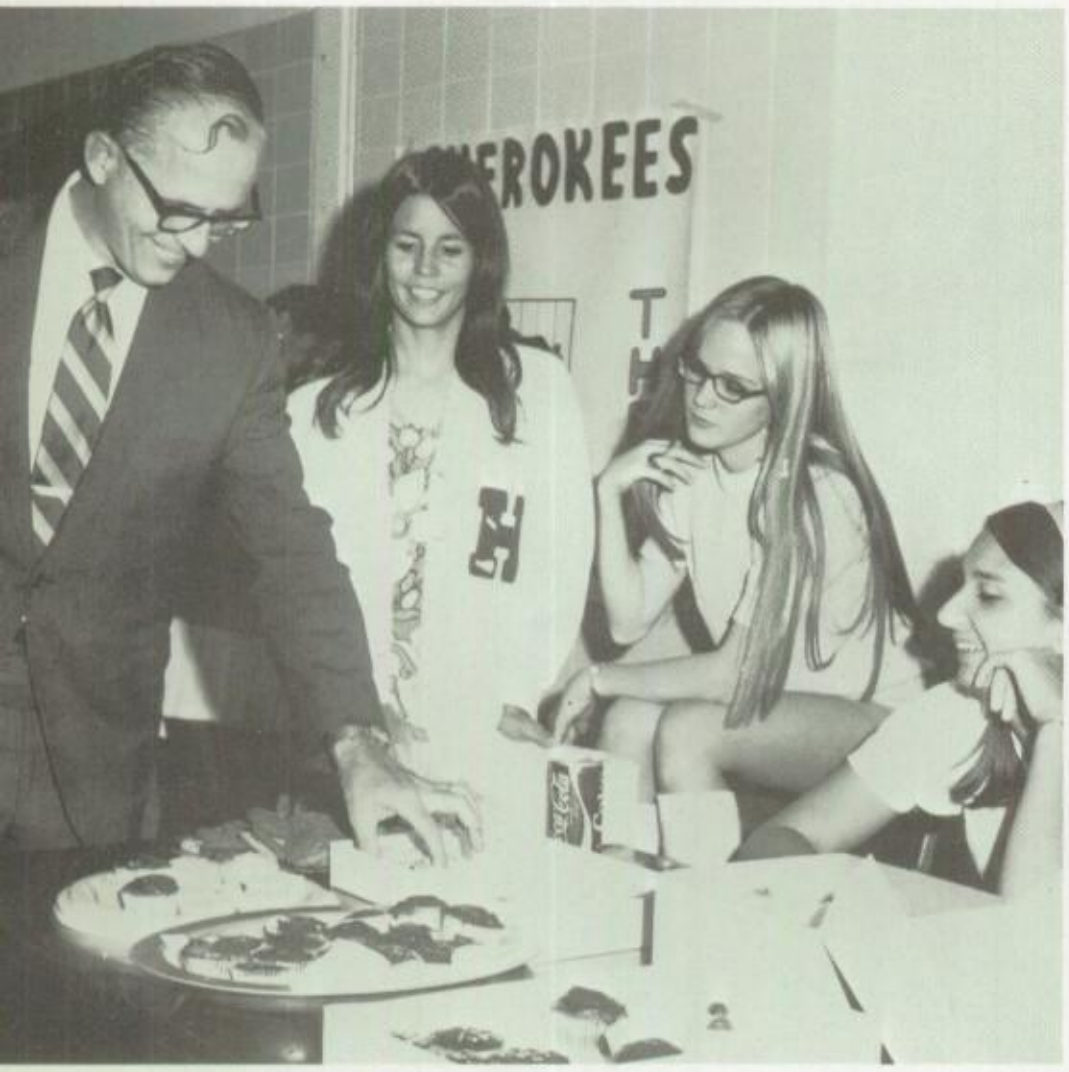
Students Enjoy Casual Dress Code



November, though cold and rainy, did not dampen Cherokee spirit. Seniors took cap and gown pictures, while juniors ordered senior rings. The Senior Class sponsored the movie, "Wait Until Dark." The district TSTA meeting provided a much needed holiday break for students, while the November 13 Mexican Supper and Style Show, sponsored by the Cadence Callers, provided SHers an evening of entertainment.

The final football game not only saw the Cherokees defeat the Edison Bears 20-6 but also honored seniors in the Cheroketts and band. The revised dress code permitted girls and teachers to wear pant suits to school. The long awaited Thanksgiving weekend ended the month.

SHers Experience Jolly Christmas

December, which was filled with Christmas activities, kept SHers alive with the spirit of the month. Many students shopped for presents, while others attended the basketball games in support of the sharpshooting Cherokees.

Cheroketts and Student Council members brought happiness by donating toys to orphans. The pep squad also brought Vietnam G. I.'s closer to home by sending them Christmas cards. The Student Council also sponsored door and bulletin board decorating contests. Before being dismissed for the Christmas holidays, students took tests and attended the Christmas band concert and various club parties.

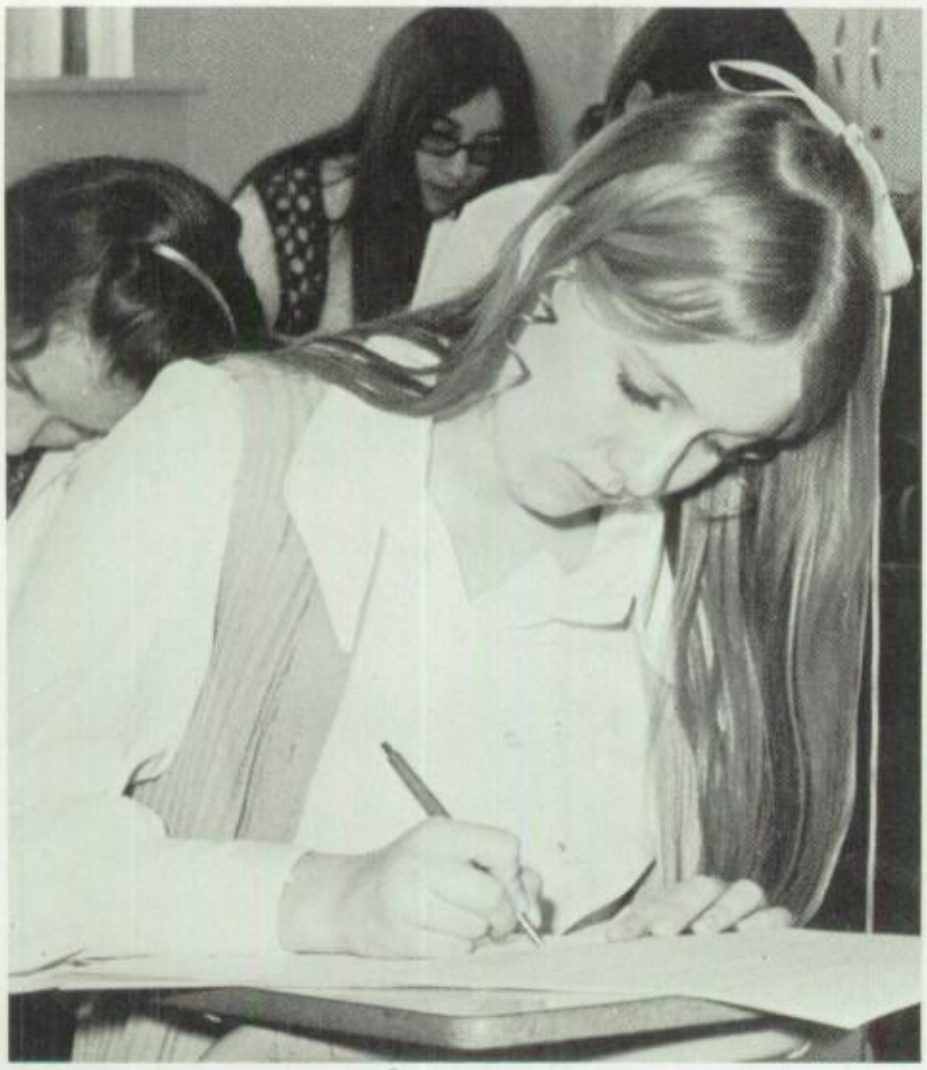
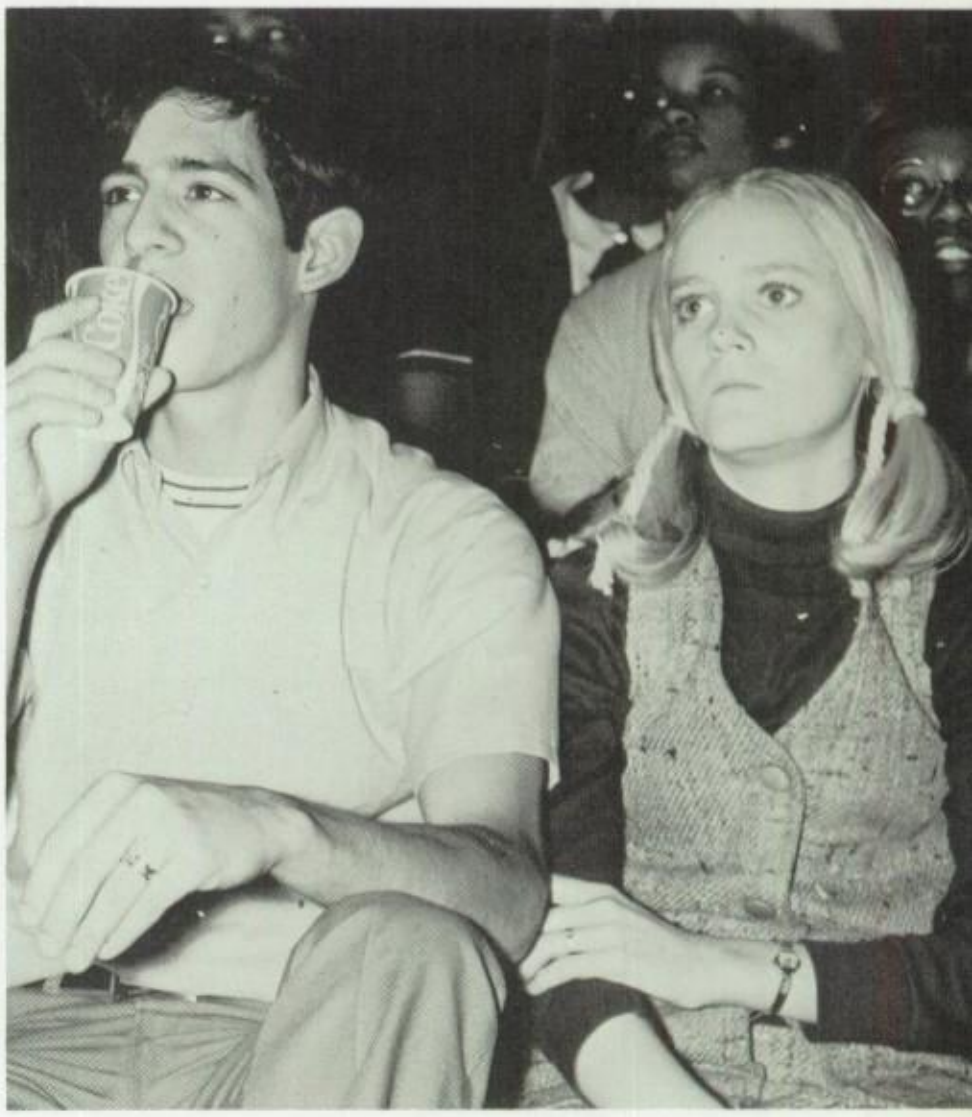
Exams Create Studious Atmosphere





With the celebration of the New Year, SHers made solemn resolutions to study for mid-term exams. After completing exams, however, students resumed their normal pace of activity.

The Student Council sponsored a tee-shirt sale, while the Spanish Club sold Mexican pralines to raise funds for a trip to Mexico. Cheroketts and FCA members competed in a basketball game resulting in a tie.

While these activities occurred, the drama department was industriously preparing the January 8 production of "Peter Pan." Junior urban coalitions from Lanier and Alamo Heights visited the campus January 27 in an effort to study SH's plant and activities. Students enrolled in driver's education classes were trained in the driving simulator, which was at SH through April 5.

Simultaneously, Cherokee cagers defeated their arch district rival, the Brackenridge Eagles, 77-73 January 30. This victory brought spirited cries of, "We're No. 1!"

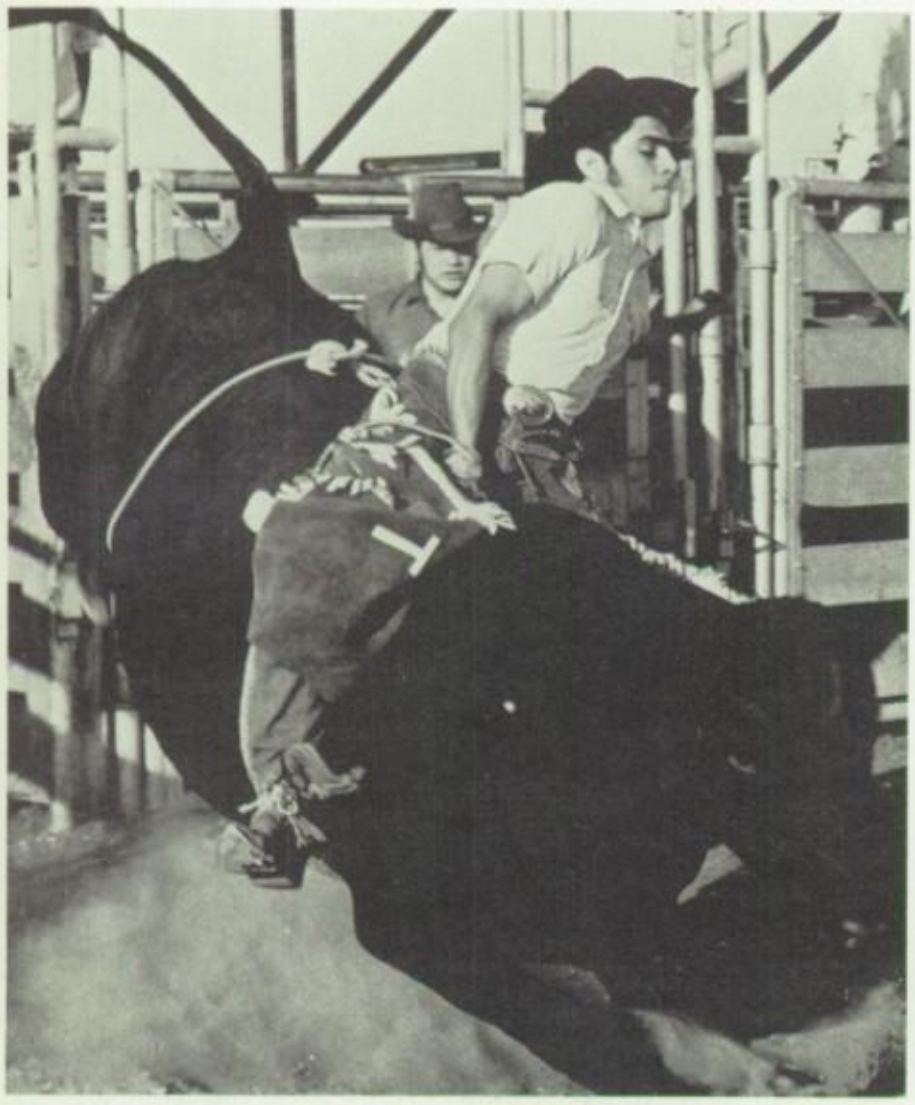
February Brings Cupid to Campus



Houstonites entertained thoughts of the Stock Show and Rodeo in February, while several members of the Rodeo Club rode in the various trail rides beginning February 5.

Thoughts of love and friendship brought Valentine's Day to SH. Future Teachers sold carnations; Future Homemakers sent telegrams, and Medical Careers Club delivered valentines. The band traveled to various hospitals and rest homes to present short skits, while some music students competed in solo and ensemble contests. Students began to prepare for competition in UIL activities, while FTA members traveled to Houston to attend the state convention. Several Library Club members also attended a state convention in Huntsville, and the Texas Association of German Students went to San Angelo for a convention.

Amid these activities, seniors ordered graduation invitations and caps and gowns. Throughout the month, the Cherokee basketball team maintained its unblemished record and won the district championship.

Council Proclaims Cherokee Day;

SHers had little time to spare during the most active month of the year. Highlight of the month was the March 12 state basketball playoff game between Sam Houston and Houston Wheatley. City Council proclaimed this date as "Cherokee Day," as a result of the team's fine sportsmanship during the season. The National Honor Society inducted 43 Cherokees into its organization March 15 with a banquet initiation ceremony. Both old and new members sold cornflowers March 22 to celebrate the beginning of spring. Student Council Variety Show, themed to "Express Yourself," occurred March 23, and DECA students chose this month for an Open House. Field inspection March 2 saw the ROTC unit receive an excellent rating. SH cindermen, as well as the golf team, won the District 30-AAAA title. PTA sponsored an Open House and Sausage Supper March 5 and a Faculty Appreciation Coffee March 3. Four students participated in the "On the Spot" television show and defeated Lockhart by a score of 140-130. Sophomores sold class pins during the month.

April Brings End of Year Events

April, with its spring theme of Fiesta, was full of excitement and fun. The Junior-Senior Prom April 30 highlighted the month. Couples, enjoying the theme of "Let the Sunshine In," danced to the music of Mickey and the Soul Generation and the Obo Reed Bandits at the USAA Building. ROTC cadets were honored at the Military Ball April 15. New Raven and Cherokee editors were announced at the publications banquet April 27 at Lake Breeze. On April 29 each teacher drew a lottery number to determine if he would face a possible change in assignment in order to insure a racial mix in the faculty.

Fiesta Week holiday saw SHers participating in the band festival, parades, and Night in Old San Antonio. The track team won several meets as well as the district championship. An all school reception April 29 honored Mr. Shafer on his retirement. Cherokett officers were elected April 28 and cheerleaders the following day.

As the month drew to a close, the Student Council held elections and sponsored a clean-up contest in observance of Earth Day. Seniors took ACT tests in preparation for graduation. Finally, there was only one month to go.

Seniors Await Graduation in May

As seniors began a countdown of the remaining days until graduation, formal events and banquets crowded the calendar. At the Green and White Banquet May 3 senior Cheroketts were honored and new officers and cheerleaders announced. Senior Cheroketts traveled to Port Aransas early in May. A senior program May 6 featured skits of the year's activities. The band entertained with a final concert May 7.

Drill team, Cheroketts, and the band performed routines during the ROTC Field Day. An Awards Assembly May 14 recognized students who had contributed service to the school. Seniors completed finals May 20 and attended the senior picnic at Landa Park May 21. Baccalaureate services were held May 23 and graduation exercises May 26. Juniors received their senior rings, and on the last day of school the Sophomore Class presented a movie for the student body. The end of a long, fun-filled year had come. Seniors went on to make plans for the future, and juniors established themselves as the class of '72.

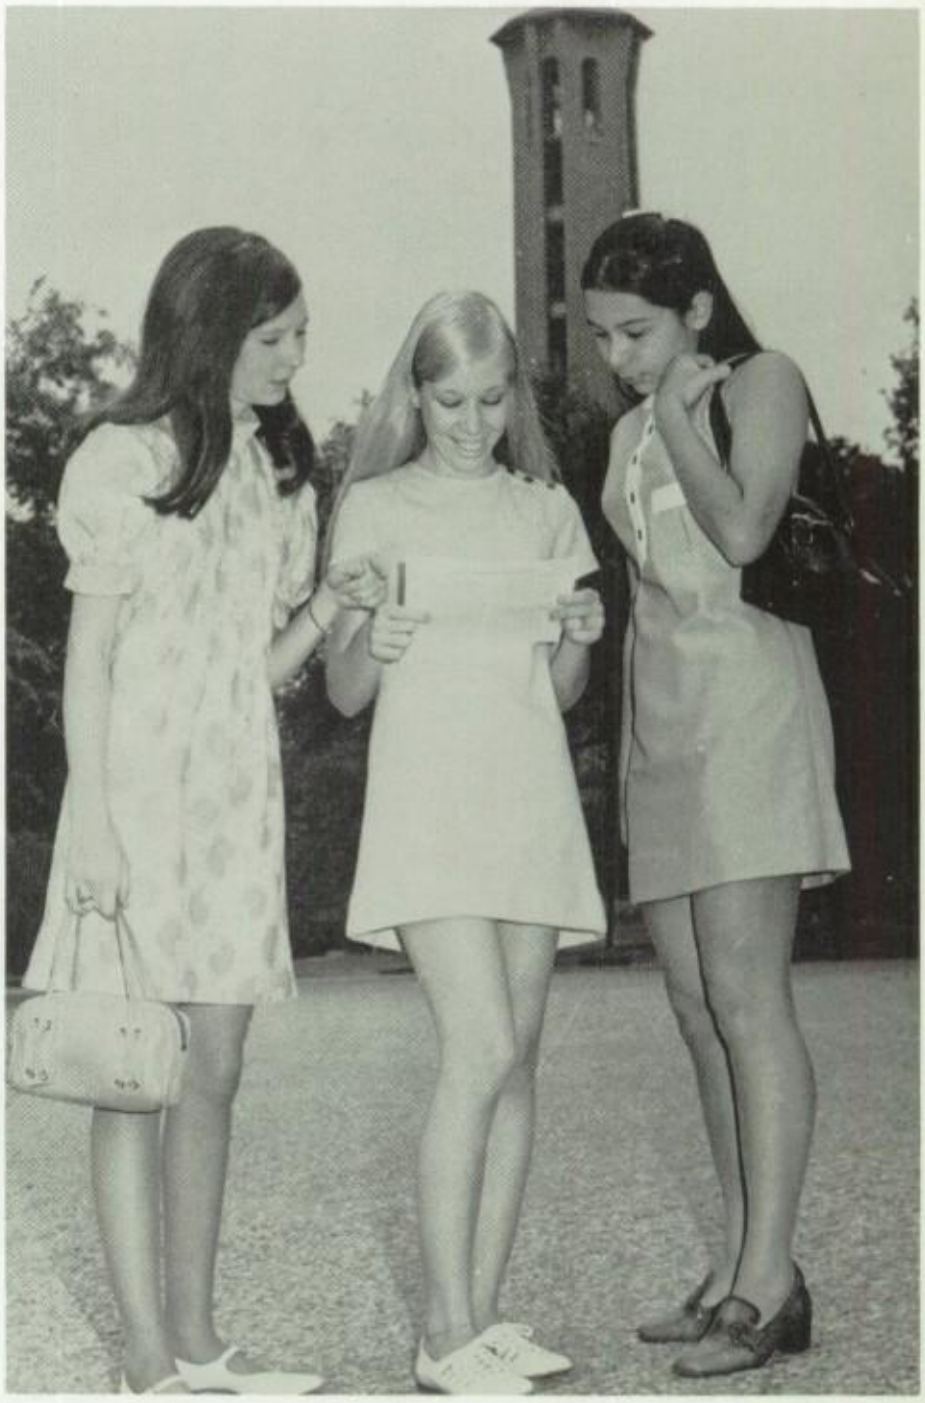
Seniors Show Leadership, Ambition



Top Students Cop Highest Honors

Honor is earned by hard work and dedication. Many SH seniors were honored with awards and scholarships. These honor students reached their goal by excelling in skill, scholarship, leadership, and dedication.

Distinguished seniors in this section are the top ten academically, scholarship winners, and award recipients. Scholarship programs, such as the Otto Koehler and George T. Brackenridge Foundation, rewarded students for exceptional work and scholastic achievements. Trinity University, Notre Dame, and Duke University were among colleges which gave scholarships and grants. Organizations, such as General Mills, DAR, and the American Legion honored students for interest in their country, community, and home life. UIL awards were also given to students for outstanding achievements in special fields.

Sam Houston honor students have gained rewards for success in reaching their goals. During a year of was protest and strikes, many SHers set an example of the quiet majority speaking out.

FACULTY

OUR CHEROKEE TRIBE HAD ITS WARRIORS AND SQUAWS,
BUT THE CHIEFS WERE THE MIGHTIEST WITHOUT ANY FLAWS.
IN OUR MODERN TONGUE THEY WOULD BE CALLED TEACHERS, FACULTY, OR DIRECTORS, BUT NEVER PREACHERS.
IN APPLYING THEIR KNOWLEDGE, THEY WERE TRULY SKILLED;
THEY MADE MANY CHEROKEES SMART AND STRONG-WILLED.
OF COURSE, THERE WAS GUIDANCE FROM OUR ADMINISTRATION
FOR SEPTEMBER'S REGISTRATION TO MAY'S GRADUATION.
SECRETARIES AND RECORD KEEPERS KEPT UP THE BOOKS
WHILE THE MAINTENANCE LINE TOOK CARE OF THE LOOKS.
EACH HARD WORKER CONTRIBUTED SOME
AS A CHEROKEE CHIEF OF '71!

SHers Salute Big Cherokee Chiefs

Mr. Robert K. Shafer, who retired at the end of the year, had served as principal of Sam Houston High School for 15 years. Mr. Shafer, who has had experience in every grade level, received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Southwest Texas State University.

Upon retiring, Mr. Shafer and his wife built a new home on Treasure Island in McQueeney, Texas, where he will fish and garden. He plans to continue attending the Highland Park Lion's Club.

When he left, Mr. Shafer took with him many memories. With SHers he left a lasting impression of kindness, compassion, and helpfulness.

RIGHT: Mr. Robert K. Shafer introduces the SH mascot, Sam, to the student body. BELOW: Mr. Frank Clark lists the latest events on his business calendar.

Mr. Frank Clark, who assisted Mr. Shafer in the responsibilities of running SH, is well qualified. Before coming here, he was principal of Longfellow Junior School for four years, before which he had served for three years as math consultant for the SAISD. He had also taught chemistry and physics at Burbank.

Having been graduated from Trinity University, Mr. Clark holds a master's degree in physics and a B.S. degree in math. In his spare time Mr. Clark enjoyed playing softball, camping, and riding river rapids.

Mr. Clark's main objective was to improve the SH curriculum. He, along with other administrators, distributed program surveys and modernized the dress code.

New Members Add Spark to Faculty

An important addition to the administrative staff was Mr. Edward Williams, vice-principal in Building B. He was eager to help any student who came to him for assistance. He also served as dean of the foundation unit.

Teaching at Edgar Allan Poe Junior School for four years, he was an instructor in every field except science. He then became vice-principal of Riley Junior School and after that came to join the staff here.

Mr. Williams has several achievements in the field of education. He holds a BA degree from St. Mary's, a master's degree from Our Lady of the Lake College, and is presently a Ph.D. candidate from the University of Texas.

Mr. Williams's plans were based on the belief that the school exists for the betterment of student leadership. He hopes to continue in the field of education.

Mr. Arthur Mahavier added spark to the administration as vice-principal in Building A. He earned this promotion after serving two years as vice-principal at Lowell Junior School. Prior to this, he had spent eight years coaching at Fox Tech.

Mr. Mahavier earned his bachelor's degree from Trinity University. He also holds a master's degree from Trinity. He has done graduate work at Southwest Texas State University.

His fondness for athletics was obvious, as he played football for the Jefferson Mustangs, Texas Lutheran College, and in the military service. At SH he set up a parking lot patrol system to keep others out and to protect students' property.

Deans Assist Students, Teachers

Having taught school 18 years at Page, two years at Portwood Junior School and two years at Sam Houston, Mr. Grisham was well qualified for his position as technical and vocational dean. He attended North Texas State and Trinity Universities. He majored in history and received B.S. and master of education degrees.

Mr. Grisham's main duty was helping students experiencing difficulties with grades, attendance, behavior, or personal problems. He was also involved with helping new teachers with class problems and procedures.

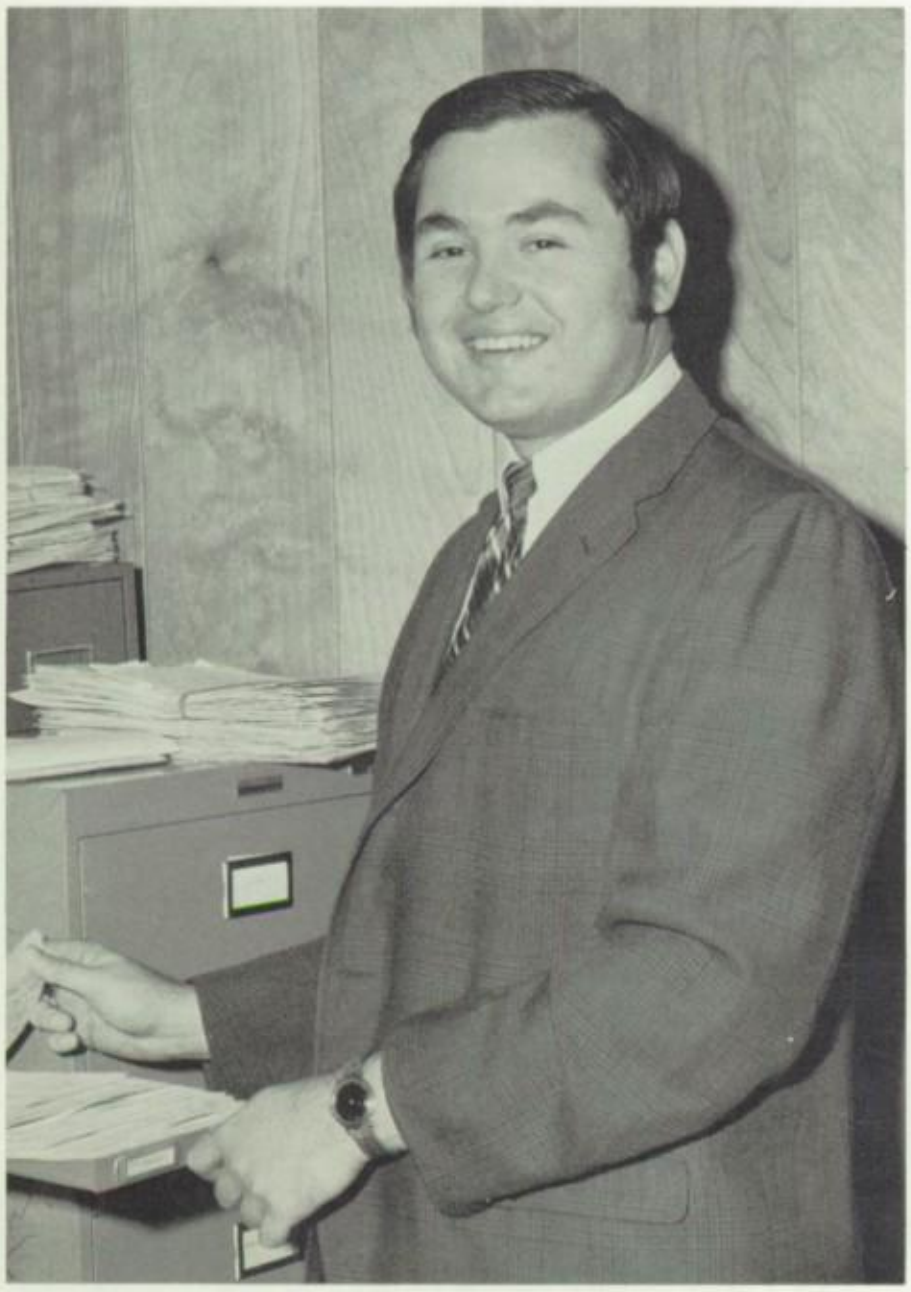
Miss Chamberlain, college preparatory dean, attended Our Lady of the Lake College and Texas, Syracuse, St. Mary's and Trinity Universities. She majored in music for her B.A. degree, and she also holds a master of education degree.

Miss Chamberlain taught music at Ursuline Academy, Irving Junior School, and at Brackenridge High School, where she was also a counselor. Miss Chamberlain's primary goal was to facilitate students' entrance into college. Her other duties included curriculum planning, classroom visitations, and regulation of discipline and attendance.

She is an active member of the Texas State Teachers' Association, SAISD, San Antonio Area Women Deans and Counselor's Organization, Southwest Texas Personnel and Guidance Organization, and the Delta Kappa Gamma. She enjoys music, sewing, and watching football games. An accomplished organist, she has also directed several choirs.

Counselors Act as Guide to Future



An entirely new counseling staff, Mr. David Spencer, Mrs. Edna Christopher, and Miss Patricia Karam, aided SH students and faculty.

Mr. Spencer attended St. Mary's University, where he earned a B.A. in mathematics. From Our Lady of the Lake College he received a masters of education degree. Mr. Spencer served in Building B as counselor of the foundation unit. He handled schedule planning and changes of new students and registration and withdrawals of ninth and tenth graders.

Another addition to SH was Mrs. Edna Christopher, who came from Wheatley to become counselor of the technical and vocational unit. Mrs. Christopher holds bachelor and master's degrees in home economics. She attended Tillotson College and Columbia University. Whe completed post graduate courses at the University of Minnesota and Iowa State. She studied counseling and guidance at Our Lady of the Lake College.

Miss Patricia Karam, counselor of the college preparatory unit, previously taught business courses at Page; then she served five years as a counselor there. Miss Karam attended Our Lady of the Lake College. She has a B.S. and a masters of education in business. She enjoys playing tennis, reading art history, and dancing.

School Clerks Give Helpful Advice

Mrs. Inez Brunnemann, secretary in Building A, and Mrs. Violet Kibbe, secretary in Building B, had many duties, which included typing requisitions, duplicating forms, sorting and distributing mail, and keeping records of faculty absences.

Mrs. Myra Lee Krafft and Mrs. Connie Low, a new addition to the registrar's office, kept an up-to-date file of grades and test scores for each student. Mrs. Krafft and Mrs. Low kept files on present and past SH students and posted grades on permanent record cards. They were also responsible for mailing transcripts for college-bound students.

Mrs. Martha Lynn Kumpf, bookkeeper, kept financial records, recorded money collected at SH, placed orders for senior rings and graduation invitations, and sold parking permits.

Mrs. Claire Overton, attendance teacher, kept accurate attendance records of all SH students. She wrote absentee and tardy slips and prepared the daily absentee list. She also supervised the completion of federal cards and issued bus cards to eligible students.

Textbook clerks, Mrs. Patricia Cornell in Building A, and Mrs. Mary Vickers in Building B, returned lost books, issued locks, workbooks, and textbooks, and driver-education handbooks. They also sold tickets for football and basketball games.

Mrs. Harriet Masterson, school nurse, kept concise medical records of each student. These reports gave her a knowledge of each SHer's medical history so that in case of injury or sickness he could be administered proper treatment.

Mrs. Frances Johnson, Building A study hall clerk, and Mrs. Gladys McCarver, Building B study hall clerk, aided students with many of their problems and gave advice whenever needed.

"You're late again!!" exclaims Mrs. Frances Johnson, as Kathy Bolt and Ruby Jones report to study hall with their tardy slips.

English Classes Create Interest

"Read, study, and write" was the motto of instructors as concerned English teachers worked with grade-level coordinators to identify areas needing improvement. Instructors received help from the principal-elect, dean, and the Area II language arts coordinator in an attempt to give students a background of literary heritage.

Departmental members tried to identify students' weaknesses. Teachers were assigned to coordinate grade-level units of study, schedule films, organize field trips, solicit membership in professional organizations, and keep in touch with research in the English field.

In English I "Romeo and Juliet" was studied. Films and records helped freshmen understand poems and plays. Sophomores received new literature books with an emphasis on dialects and phonetics.

Junior English students studied American literature and learned to write themes and essays. English IV students learned to develop basic skills of reading, writing, and speaking. Many seniors enjoyed viewing "Hamlet" at Trinity University in December.

Foreign Language Lab Aids Classes

Foreign language departments offered courses in German, Spanish, Latin, and French in both introductory and advanced courses. Instruction was given in oral and written phases of each language to help improve pronunciation and to correct grammatical errors. In advanced courses of each language, cultural ideas and traditions were studied.

German students studied the geography of Germany. Spanish I students read novels and newspapers from Spain and Mexico. Spanish II students continued studying customs of Spain. Spanish III students studied cultural aspects of art and music.

Latin students studied customs of the Roman Empire, played Latin bingo, and sang Christmas carols in Latin. French students read pamphlets in French on such topics as government, customs, people, and geography of France.

Teachers used charts, films, magazines, and overhead projectors. Other special aids, such as records, tape recorders, and the language lab, helped students become proficient in a foreign language.

Vocational Department Increases

Two new programs, industrial cooperative training, and special education, were added to the vocational department. I. C. T. boys worked in an industrial, commercial, and professional enterprise. Students earned three elective credits per year toward their high school diploma upon completion of class study and supervised work experience.

In special education, exceptional students were able to go to an average high school. Their teachers utilized students' talents with special programs, such as sculpture and art classes.

Distributive education, mechanical drawing, shop, and homemaking were also offered. Distributive Education offered both male and female students job opportunities in local stores. Mechanical drawing classes drew up plans for boxes, screws, and small homes.

Book shelves, purses, and gun racks were among projects made by the shop department. Home and family living was added to the homemaking department.

Fine Arts Classes Gain Excellence

New instructors came with new ideas to make the fine arts department enjoyable, imaginative, and interesting. Cherokee band members, with the help of the new band director Mr. Wesley Black, performed clever routines in football half-time shows. After marching season, the band became a concert band and ended the year with a spring concert.

During the Christmas season, the SH choir sang Christmas songs at Wonderland and Central Park Malls. Individual students entered the UIL solo and ensemble contest with 11 students winning honors. Mrs. Shirley Davis combined the talents of drama students in the production of "Peter Pan." Miss Amy La Presto joined the staff at mid-term.

In the research section of the library many students found help with their projects in the new and up-to-date material. Journalism classes spent many hours learning the techniques of publishing a paper and yearbook. The department published 16 issues of the RAVEN and the CHEROKEE annual under the direction of Mrs. Roberta Mahan, sponsor.

New Teachers Bring Many Changes

History Classes Motivate Interest

Discussions, reports, and debates touching on topics of current affairs and student interest highlighted government classes. Lecture subjects included lowering the voting age, college riots, and pollution.

American history, world history, government, world geography, Negro history, and Texas history were offered. A new addition to the department was Mexican American history, in which the cultures and background of these people were studied. The class visited the San Antonio missions on a field trip.

Textbooks, maps and charts, films, and globes aided teachers in teaching political science. Panel discussions and student projects added interest to the courses. The Constitution and the Bill of Rights were discussed thoroughly to reveal the importance of human regard and individual freedom.

To become informed on the issues of today was the object of this field of learning. Broadening views and creating open-minded individuals were objectives of instructors.

Overhead Projector Assists SHers;

Six new instructors became members of SH's mathematic department. Courses included related mathematics, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, elementary analysis, and computer mathematics. Teachers aided Cherokees in their study of all facets of math from binomial equations to cosine functions.

Math is thought of as a course for the college-bound student, but is important to all who wish to be clerks, mechanics, policemen, printers, and carpenters. Instructors stressed that it is useful to everyone, not just college-bound students.

An overhead projector was placed in each class room to show students the correct way of working their problems. Through this visual aid and the actual working of the problems, students learned new methods of adding, subtracting, multiplying, and dividing.

Sam Houston's math program provided students with many opportunities. It gave them experiences they may later apply to everyday living. It also helped students to think logically through all types of problems.

Science Classes Receive New Text

Sam Houston's science department tried to keep up with rapid changes of our world. New textbooks and laboratory notebooks aided in biology and physics departments. Cherokees gained experience by performing laboratory experiments.

Several science courses on different grade levels were offered: physical science, biology, chemistry, and physics. While physical science students learned different types of weight measures, biology students engaged in a trip to the zoo and laboratory dissection of animals.

Chemistry students learned the use of the slide rule and the accurate way of measuring chemicals. Vectors, power laws, and critical angles were areas studied by physics students.

In whatever field of science a student's interest lay, Sam Houston had a challenging course to offer him.

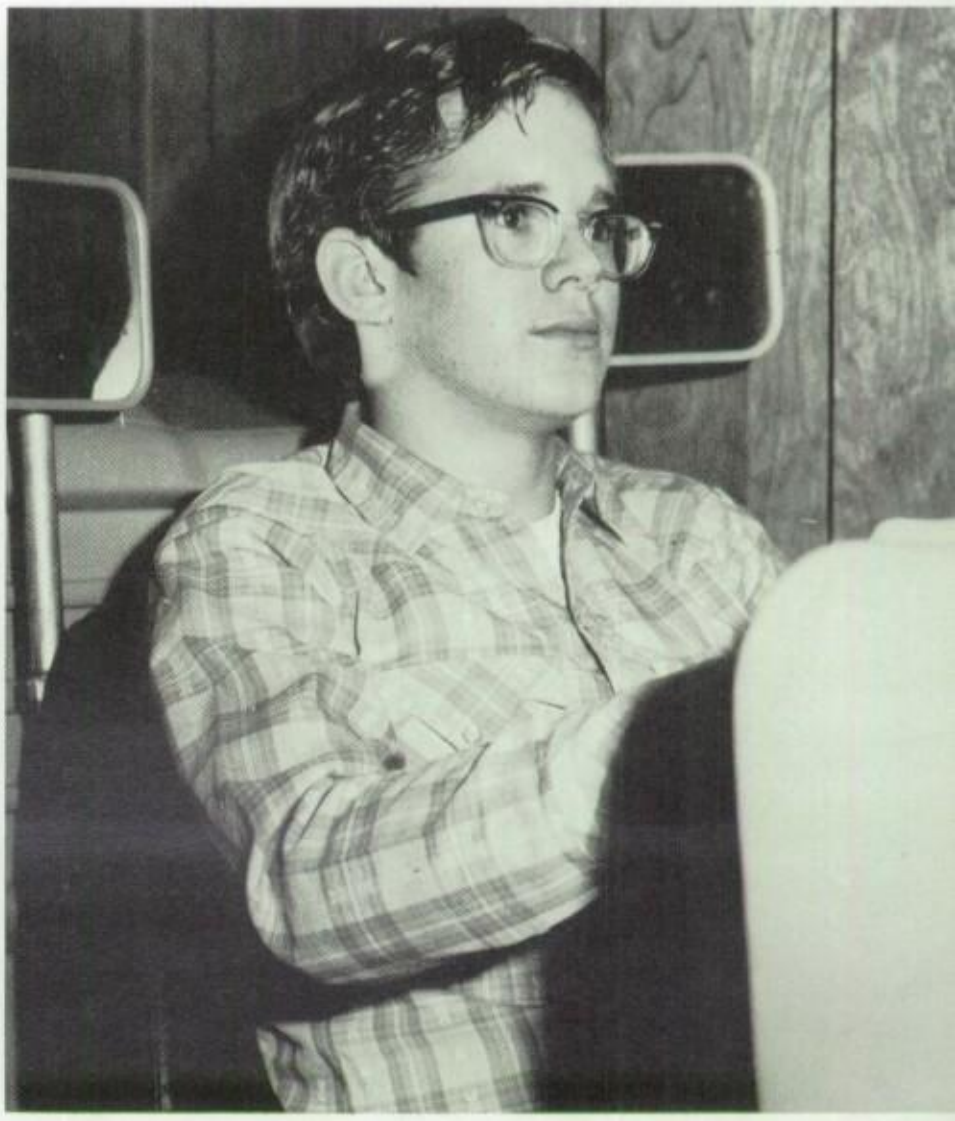
Driver's Ed Stimulates Students

Physical education classes worked out daily to keep fit. Students participated in seasonal sports, football, basketball, baseball, and soccer. They also found time for volleyball and running track. Throughout the year students were taught qualities of leadership and fair play.

Driver's Education, Phase I and Phase II, were also offered. In Phase I students learned basic mechanics of driving and proper use of the automobile. The simulator was an addition to the Phase II program. The course was divided between behind-the-wheel driving and use of the simulator. Films were shown in the simulator projecting driving hazards to which students were to react.

Phase II also had students practicing city driving, parallel parking, and emergency stops. After the required 30 hours of classroom instruction plus the minimum hours of in-car driving, students received drivers' licenses.

Coach Glen Crocker supervises John Hill as he practices exercising on the horse.



Jim Ducharme concentrates on controlling the simulated car in phase II of drivers' education.

Inspections, target practice, and military drills occupied the attention of ROTC classes. Discipline, leadership, and military courtesy were taught to cadets. Second and third year cadets became officers with the job of instructing new cadets.

Sergeant Robert Foster and Sergeant Major Eldridge Bayer, instructors, trained cadets in a strict military manner. Students were given a choice of either drill team or rifle team participation.

Members assisted the pep squad and band at football games. The ROTC undertook the task of patrolling the street crossing between classes and after school.

Federal inspection of the ROTC was conducted March 2 by high ranking officers. Ranks, weapons, and buildings were inspected. The SH unit received a blue honor star for exceptionally high standards of military training and an excellent rating.

Business Courses Develop Accuracy

Commercial students were offered bookkeeping, business arithmetic, clerical practice, shorthand, and typing. Classes were well equipped with tape recorders, calculators, mimeograph machines, and dictaphones. New electric typewriters were added to commerical classes. Weekly tests, daily quizzes, and timed writings kept students alert.

Clerical practice students learned to use adding machines and ditto machines.

Bookkeeping classes learned filing techniques, while drill and records were used in shorthand to improve the rate of transcription time. Spelling practices, typing drills, and instructions in office procedure enabled students to pass their employment tests.

Enthusiastic business students joined the Better Business Leaders, a club designed to help students move up the ladder toward professional careers.

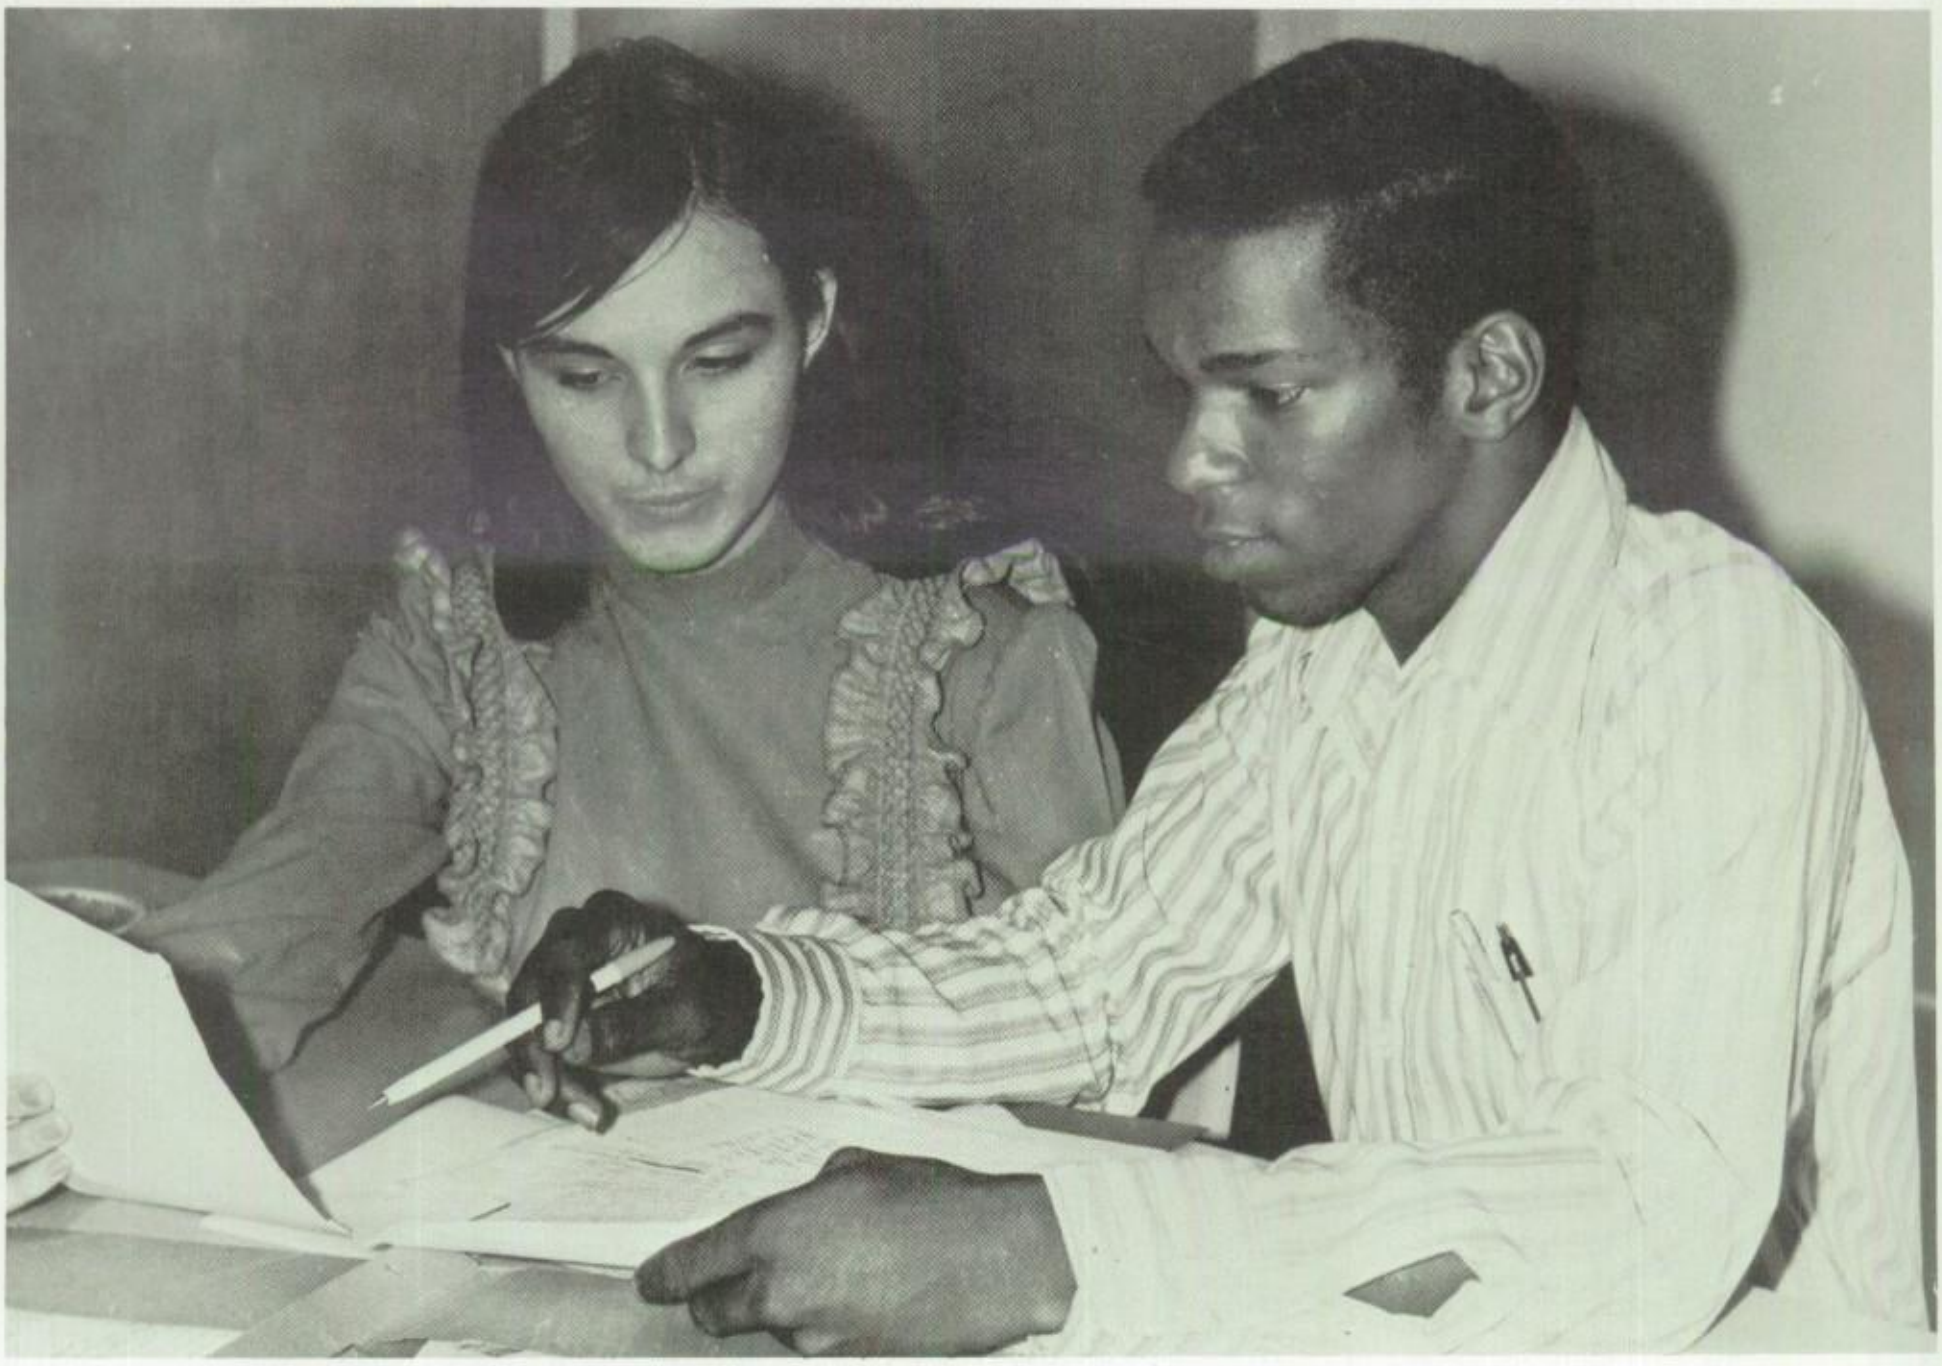
Council Sponsors

With an increase in school enrollment, the Student Council membership was larger than ever before, and its activities in handling business matters of the school were more numerous.

Advisories elected representatives who, along with officers and other student leaders, made up the membership. Representatives were responsible for reporting to their advisories activities the council discussed. Every Monday officers held an executive meeting to set the agenda for regular Tuesday and Thursday meetings.

September activities of the council began with an orientation program for freshmen. Council members served lunch to teachers on work days, August 27, 28. A Howdy Week pep rally was scheduled by the Student Council to welcome SHers back to school. Each morning opening exercises were given by the council president, Jason Mims.



Numerous Events

In cooperation with the Presidents' Club, the council changed the dress code for girls and teachers to permit them to wear pant suits. Busses were chartered for students going to the Carroll game in Corpus Christi September 26.

October was also an active month with the council sponsoring more projects. Students participated in the March of Dimes Walk by getting donors to pledge money for the number of miles walked. During Spirit Week the council sponsored a dance, the "Spirit Week Experience," with music by Micky and the Soul Generation. The council also sponsored door decoration and bulletin board decoration contests and a special pep rally.

Each month the council sponsored a Citizen of the Month contest for outstanding students in the various classes.

Council Helps Houston Win Contest

Pandora Johnson, recording secretary, and Michelle Hall, corresponding secretary, discuss minutes of last meeting.

Student Council began November activities with the Most Spirited School Contest, in which students signed hundreds of petitions in order to make Sam Houston number one in the city. Members issued petitions, collected them, and at the end of each day took them to KONO for counting to enable SH to win $1,250 for first place in the contest.

At Christmas council members sponsored a door decoration contest and decorated Christmas trees in the center hall of both buildings. Many advisories entered the door contest, which was won by Miss Judith Mixon's advisory.

In January selling T-shirts was the main activity. Members also began to plan the Talent Show, an annual council-sponsored event. Student Council also hosted the Junior Urban Coalition, with students from Alamo Heights and Lanier High Schools visiting SH classes. In some advisories new representatives were elected. Plans were finalized for eight members to attend the Alamo Association of Student Councils Convention February 27 at Highlands High School.

State Convention Motivates SHers

February saw the beginning of the Junior Urban Coalition with members visiting different school campuses for evaluating purposes.

Student Council State Convention, held annually in Austin with representatives from other Texas schools, was held April 1-3. Various workshops enabled the four delegates to learn more about council procedures and officer positions. Mr. Joe Cunningham, SH sponsor, Pandora Johnson, Jason Mims, Kenneth Crain, and Leonette Price represented SH at the convention.

In an assembly April 14, nominating speeches were made as next year's officer candidates outlined their platforms. The election followed with Kenneth Crain assuming the presidency for 71-72.

On Earth Day April 23 advisories vied with each other in collecting trash. Sponsored by the council, the Awards Assembly May 14 honored students who had made contributions of service or won honors.

NHS Initiation Ceremony Changes

For the first time the National Honor Society inductees were honored at an initiation banquet. The March 15 affair in the SH cafeteria proved an exciting deviation from past initiation ceremonies.

Members' parents and other invited guests attended. Musical numbers and paper flowers created by members for the table were evening highlights.

The four senior and 39 junior inductees were presented pins and certificates as the National Honor Society oath was administered. Members sold flowers to help usher in the spring season.

NHS members strove to maintain the highest levels of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Officers were Roy Olivares, president; James Williams, vice-president; Annette Knappick, secretary; Joe Srubar, treasurer; and Terri Summers, chaplain. Mr. Henry Ginther sponsored the group.

Editors Acquire Responsibility

Working diligently, Cherokee staffers aimed for a yearbook of lasting memories and fond thoughts. Editors had their work cut out for them in supervising staffers' layouts.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Roberta Mahan, Cherokee staffers spent much time soliciting ads, planning layouts, supervising pictures, writing copy, and preparing final drafts. Collecting on contracts, helping with student pictures, and categorizing student cards were among tasks of busy apprentice journalists.

Editors attended a journalism workshop from June 14-19 at Trinity University. They learned the new layout column method of preparing an annual and gathered other hints for a yearbook. During the month of November, staffers conducted the annual subscription campaign. Journalists enjoyed a Christmas party December 21 at Mexiteria. In May staffers enjoyed the end-of-the-year banquet, where awards were presented to outstanding journalism students, events of the year reminisced, and new editors announced.

Kathy Thornblom ponders layout notes which she has typed to complete her journalism notebook.

Editors, Kathy Shoemaker, Patty Zunker, Cindy Helms and Kathy Harrison, spend busy moments cropping pictures, drawing layouts, and formulating plans for staffers.

Raven Editors Attend Workshops

Michelle Hall copyreads feature stories on her pages for the next issue of the Raven.

"Get your free copy of the Raven! Read all about what's happening at SH," shouted newspaper staffers every other Friday. The journalism department distributed the school paper free of charge as staffers pledged to finance the paper themselves so that everyone in school could get a copy.

Working diligently and with the help of Mrs. Roberta Mahan, sponsor, staffers published 16 issues, including special issues for Spirit Week, Christmas, Easter and graduation. Editorials, sports highlights, features, and student opinion articles contributed to reader interest.

Staffers' duties were numerous as they wrote stories, solicited ads, copyread, proofread, wrote headlines, and prepared page dummies. Editors tried to make the paper student oriented by utilizing news tips and beats to include news about as many SHers as possible.

Editor Martha Peeler and staffers attended several conferences and workshops during the year. Among them was the Trinity University Journalism Institute June 14-19. On September 19 they attended a one day workshop at Trinity. Editors also participated in the UIL district competition in editorials, features, newswriting, and copyreading.

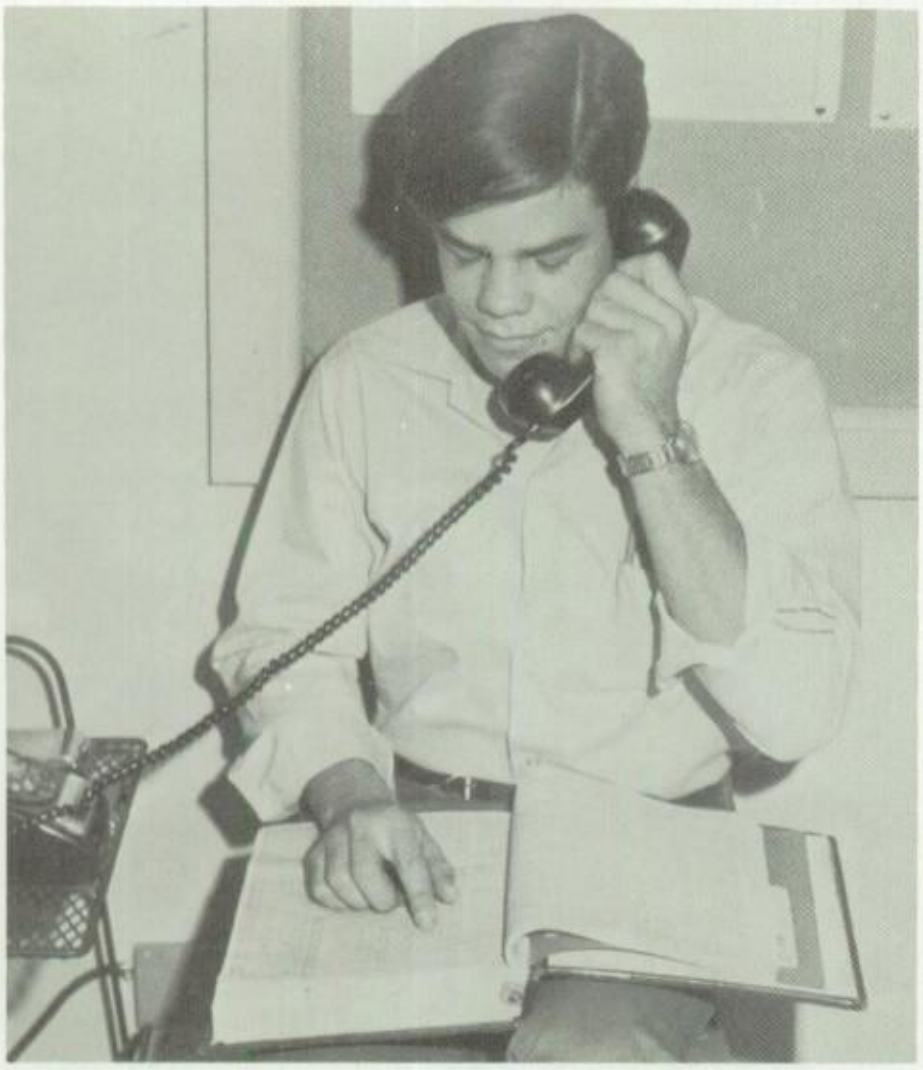
Staffers Utilize Various Talents



"Oh no, not again!" exclaimed journalism photographers when Mrs. Mahan came to show them the darkroom. After two hours had been spent cleaning up the mess through three floods, photographers improvised a method to help prevent a negative from clogging the sink.

Photographers worked long hours taking pictures, developing film, and printing pictures. Senior photographers took upon themselves the task of instructing new photographers.

Other staffers, advertising men, were an important asset in many facets necessary in the production of the Raven and Cherokee. Their duties consisted of soliciting ads, collecting payments, and distributing papers. These responsibilities helped make a successful yearbook and newspaper for Sam Houston.

Journalists Receive Certificates,

Cindy Kotara reads her invitation to become a member of the Quill and Scroll, as Mary Araiza looks on with interest.

Membership in the Quill and Scroll, an international society for high school journalists, is an honor that stands for the highest type of high school journalistic achievement. It was organized to reward individual achievements and to encourage initiative among journalists.

Members were required to have done superior work on either the newspaper or the annual and to be in the upper third of the Senior Class scholastically. Sam Houston's chapter was made up of 27 Raven and Cherokee staffers.

These journalism students were recommended for membership by Mrs. Roberta Mahan, publications advisor. To develop excellence in the fields of journalism, members carefully studied critiques sent from judges in national and state competitions in an attempt to improve the journalistic quality of the yearbook and newspaper.

Newly elected Quill and Scroll members were given a choice of ordering pins and charms with their staff positions inscribed. They were recognized at the Awards Assembly, when they received membership cards. At the end-of-the-year banquet members received honor certificates. As members of this organization, they were eligible to receive the Quill and Scroll Magazine.

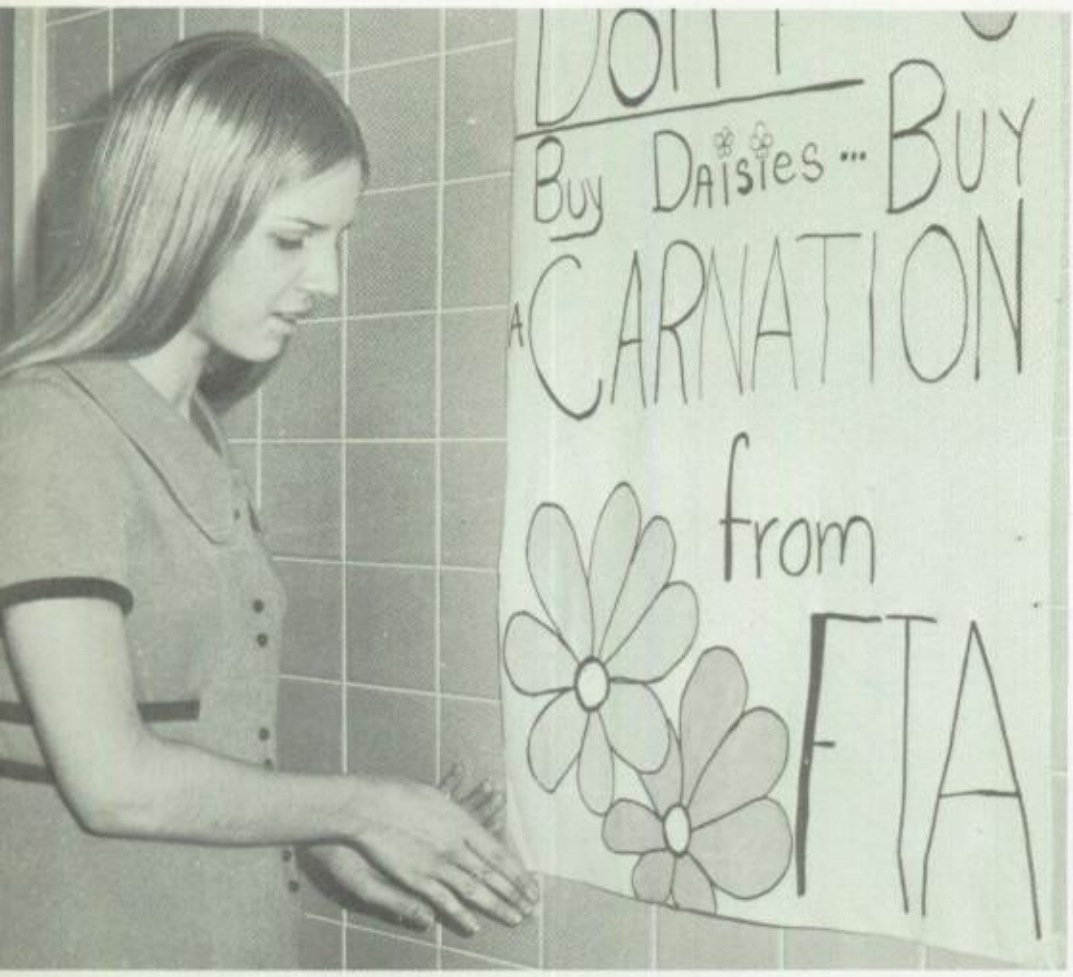
Future Teachers Sell Carnations



"Do you want to buy a carnation for your girl on Valentine's Day?," asked spirited Future Teachers, who participated in several money-making activities. The carnation sale was by far the most successful.

In September the club was organized. Officers elected were Sandi Skaggs, president; Nancy Crump, vice-president; Karen Hoehne, secretary; Lillian Claridge, treasurer; Beverly Jolly, sergeant-at-arms; and Shelia Wilson, reporter.

December was an especially active month for the FTA. On December 5, 30 members attended the district FTA convention at Harlandale. Virginia Fischer was elected financial secretary, and Cecelia Lara was SH's representative in the Miss FTA contest. Sam Houston was named the Best Club of the Year in District XX. Later that month the club entertained the faculty with a Christmas tea.

Houston's Civil Center Coliseum was the site of the twenty-second annual FTA state convention held February 26-27. Thirty-five SHers journeyed by bus to this convention to cast their votes for state officers.

Delegates participated in various projects, listened to outstanding speakers, and spent a fun-filled weekend at the Rice Hotel.

This organization furnished students with knowledge related to the teaching profession. FTA members assisted teachers with paper work, but they got a real lesson in teaching when they were allowed to take over teachers' classes on April Fool's Day.

Concluding the year's activities was a banquet honoring an outstanding teacher with the annual "Teacher of the Year" award.

Medical Careers Club Has Election

A coke and cookie party opened the year for the Medical Careers Club. Twelve members attended a lecture at Trinity University September 22. The club sponsored a student in the "Miles for Children" walk October 17.

Dr. George Townsend, head of pathology at the TB hospital, informed students of many career opportunities open in the medical field in an October 17 meeting. Members repaid the favor when they supplied refreshments for the a capella choir at a singing session at the TB hospital December 21.

MCC made Christmas brighter for patients at the State Mental Hospital December 22, when they gave a Christmas party with presents and games. Members sang Christmas songs and danced with the patients.

They returned to the State Hospital to give a Valentine's Day dance for patients in the HIP (Help Is Possible) ward on Valentines Day. Refreshments were again supplied by members.

DECA Celebrates

Sam Houston's chapter of Distributive Education Clubs of America completed its fourth year. DECA offered both classroom instruction and on-the-job training in occupations concerned with moving, financing, assembling, packaging, storing, and selling goods and services. It was a work program with students going to school in the morning and working in the afternoon. The program offered training and background in distributive fields to prepare both students who will continue their education in these areas and students that will be seeking full-time employment in such occupations after high school graduation. This, the twenty fifth anniversary of DECA, was definitely the group's most exciting year.

DECA officers were Debbie Schmidt, president; William Moravits, vice-president; Debbie Winser, parliamentarian; Mike Mueller, treasurer, Sylvia Heinemeyer, reporter; Sheila Ball, sergeant-at-arms; Joan Baldovino, secretary.

As one of the senior advisories, DE won the Spirit Week Door Decoration Contest, plus the overall best award.

Rewarding Year

During December members provided several needy families with clothing and food. Mr. Boyd L. Turner, sponsor of DECA, also gave his annual recruiting talk to sophomores interested in DECA.

In February members sold poly fluff animals as a money-making project and participated in the Texas Area IV Leadership Conference in Corpus. The area contest winners and three chapter delegates took a trip to the State DECA Leadership Conference in Fort Worth. In March, the annual DECA month, members held open house in their room for teachers. Then came the city-wide DECA Employers' Appreciation Banquet at Villita Assembly Hall.

During the month of April and the final activity month, the national DECA Leadership Conference was held in San Antonio. At the conference members participated in various competitive events, seminars, workshops, plus campaigns by national officer candidates. For the first time, the Sam Houston Chapter of DECA had people involved in the National Leadership Conference.

ICT Stresses Vocational Aptitudes

Industrial Cooperative Training began its first year at SH. Mr. Paul Robel organized the program and recruited students. With two years of vocational training ICT prepared high school youths for useful employment in occupations.

Besides being a class, students of ICT are also members of the club. Officers elected early in the year were Jerry Shedrock, president; Steve Deffee, vice-president; Robert Poore, secretary; Gary Schneider, treasurer; Frank Mendez, reporter; Allen Stoeltje, parliamentarian; and Jerry Adame, sergeant-at-arms.

Club members learned to develop basic manipulative skills while working for pay in an approved industrial semi-professional or commercial enterprise. They learned to understand the technical aspects of the occupation through daily classwork under the direct supervision of the teacher.

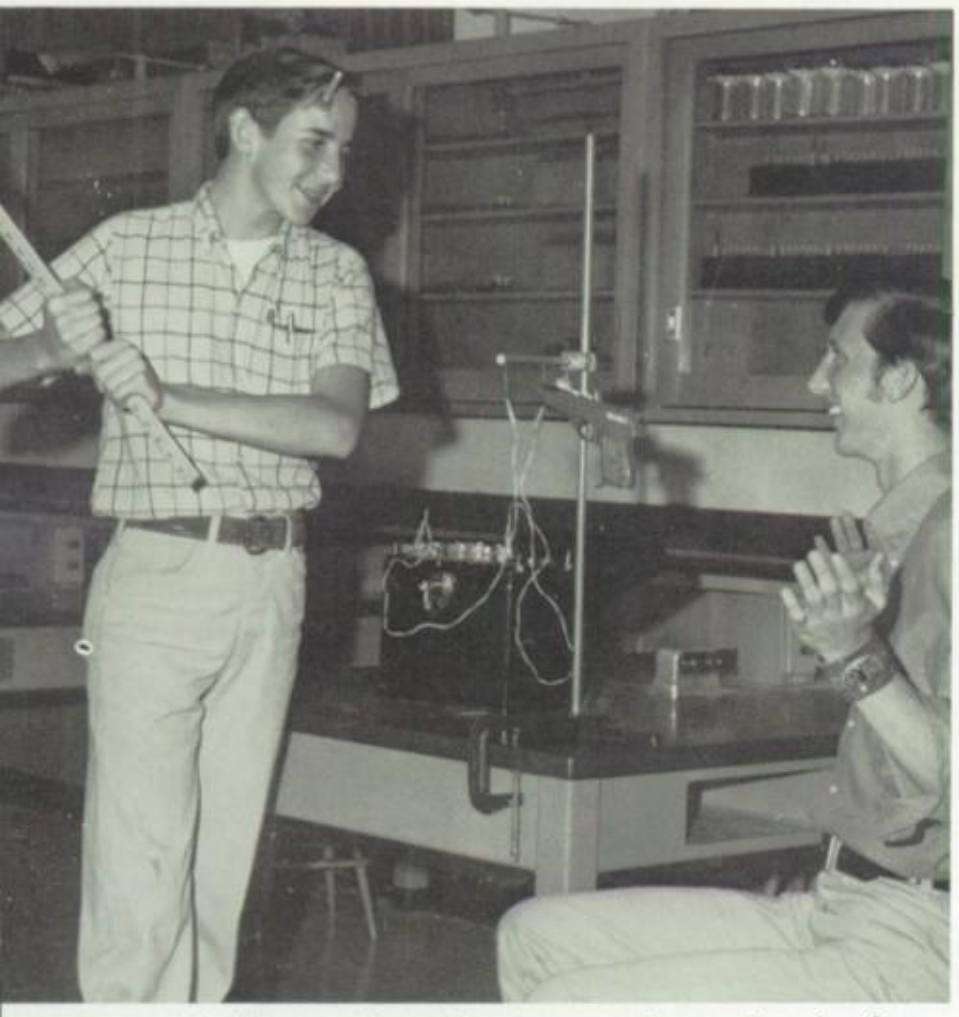
JETS Prepare for Future Careers



"EXPLAIN!," says Alton Newman to Steve Kosub after a demonstration at a JETS' meeting.

Interesting many in the fields of science and engineering, the Junior Engineering Technical Society had its largest membership since its establishment at SH in 1966. At regular meetings guest speakers from the Alamo District Science Fair and the physics department at Trinity University lectured on science and math project possibilities and performed experiments.

Under Mr. Ralph Elliott's sponsorship, the JETS visited the Aerial Mapping Plant, and individual members participated in the National Engineering Aptitude Search Testing Program. Some entered the A&M bridge building contest. Some members made a trip to the SAC planetarium and took a guided tour of a cement plant. On March 6 members attended the JETS' state convention at Texas A&M University. A monthly cupcake sale provided funds for the field trips.

Wantu Wazuri Traces Black Culture

Highlighting the year for Wantu Wazuri was a trip to the Institute of Texan Cultures at Hemisfair, where members were given a guided tour through the Negro history section. Other activities included a candy sale and an all-school Christmas dance December 21 in the school cafeteria. Music was provided by the "Reflection of Soul."

"Wantu Wazuri" are Swahili words meaning beautiful people. For the purpose of promoting Black culture and to make students aware of the achievements of Negroes, the club was organized. For Negro History Week members put posters on bulletin boards of both buildings. Each day that week over the public address system, lines were quoted from Negro poets. An end-of-the-year banquet concluded the agenda for the year.

Officers were Michael McMillion, president; Arthur Smith, vice-president; Lalita Revado, secretary; Janet Bell, treasurer; Jo Marie Watkins, chaplain; Pamela Hill, parliamentarian; and Linda Thomas, sergeant-at-arms. Sponsors were Mrs. Lois White, Mr. Richard Carrington, and Mr. Richard Van Hemert.

FHA Sponsors Valentine Telegrams

Attending the area meeting in Austin November 14 highlighted the year for 28 SH Future Homemakers. Among FHA activities was a coke party in the school cafeteria in September to which students who wanted to join the club were invited to attend.

At Christmas, members entertained patients at the Normandy Terrace Rest Home with a Christmas party. A guest speaker, Mrs. Nita Lackey, taught the girls how to make flowers at a December meeting.

February was the month for the Valentine's Day cake sale. FHA members also typed Valentine telegrams as a service to the student body. Another highlight of the year was the Daddy Date Night in March. To this fun-filled event, girls took their dads as dates. Sack racing was among the many games played at this informal affair. Finally, a Mother-Daughter banquet was held at the Little Red Barn in May.

Sponsors of the FHA were Mrs. Sharon Nester, Miss Doris Sheffield, and Mrs. Beverly Hutzler. Officers were Susan Lieck, president; Janette Bonewitz, Linda Sword, Donna Miculka, Debbie McClelland, Jo Ann Bellelo, vice-presidents; Cathie Brown, secretary; Mae Hawkins, treasurer; Alicia Gordon, parliamentarian; and Eloise Robinson and Loretta Wright, historians.

Latin Club Competes in Olympics

Latin Club delegates represented Sam Houston at the annual convention, April 2, 3, at the Convention Center, where thay competed with other Texas high school Latin students. Members entered various fields of competition, including derivatives, language, reading, translation, and Roman costumes.

Latin Olympics were held at St. Gerards High School February 27. Grammar, mythology, Roman life and history, and Greek culture were categories of competition. Wendy Paulen, president, won first place in Greek and Roman mythology. A demonstration of the proper way to design, build, and race chariots was given for the benefit of other schools.

Latin Club promoted an understanding of the ancient foreign language by using the language lab. Recorded instructions and translations helped members understand the language.

As members of the club, students paid dues and attended monthly meetings. They received Junior Classical league pins or charms and subscribed to the Torch.

Mr. Vernon Lanctot, sponsor, supervised club activities. A Roman banquet ended the year's activities.

French Club Sells Candy, Cakes

In May Le Flambeau de France joined the a cappella choir for a banquet of French cuisine at Fort Sam Houston N.C.O. club. A comedy can-can was put on by several members, and senior members received merit certificates. A familiar jazz band supplied by the club furnished music for dancing.

Miss Mary Orrison was welcomed at the beginning of the year as co-sponsor with Mr. Charles Keller. Miss Orrison taught French I students.

Le Flambeau de France promoted an interest and understanding of France. The people's daily lives, their customs, and their history were taught, along with French grammar. A "fleur-de-lis," an old French design, was used for club pins. Members sold the Kathyrn Beich assortment of candies, along with cupcakes.

Officers for the year included Terri Shannon, president; Charlotte Taplin, vice-president; Vickey Tomasello, secretary; Deborah Allen, treasurer; Ruth Coleman, historian; Raymond Gonzales, sergeant-at-arms.

Amistad Adelante, SH's Spanish club, began early in the year to make plans for an Easter trip to Mexico. To help finance the trip, a successful mum sale was held during football season. Tamale and candy sales added to the funds. Members who had collected the required amount of service points went to Mexico for six days. Those days were spent browsing through market places and viewing different Mexican sites.

In December the Spanish club gave a piñata Christmas party for underprivileged children at the Ella Austin Community Center. Refreshments, consisting of Christmas punch and cookies, were served.

Films and movies of Spanish and Mexican cultures enlivened club meetings. Activities and projects were discussed, and committees were put into action. The elected officers guided the club through a prosperous and adventuresome year.

Die Deutsche Bande's membership was an all time high of over 100 members. The club went to an outing in New Braunfels November 7 for the "Wurstfesti," which featured German music and dancing.

German club members went to San Angelo for the Texas Association of German Students' convention March 28. A trip to Fredericksburg February 13 to visit the museums provided members with a view of German heritage and culture. They took time out later that day for a picnic.

Sponsoring a student in the "Miles for Children" walk was one money-making project in which the club participated. Members even donned guns to hold up willing victims at the Dellcrest shopping center January 29 for the March of Dimes. They baked and sold cookies in December and in April.

An assortment of cookies and pastries were served to prospective members at a party in their honor September 16. To celebrate Christmas was the occasion for a second party. Miss Judith Mixon, club sponsor, supplied the car, and Die Deutsche Bande supplied the spirit and decorations for the Spirit Week car decorating contest. Their enthusiasm paid off when the club walked off with second place at the Spirit Week pep rally. A banquet in May at the Bavarian Inn was the close of an eventful year for Die Deutsche Bande.

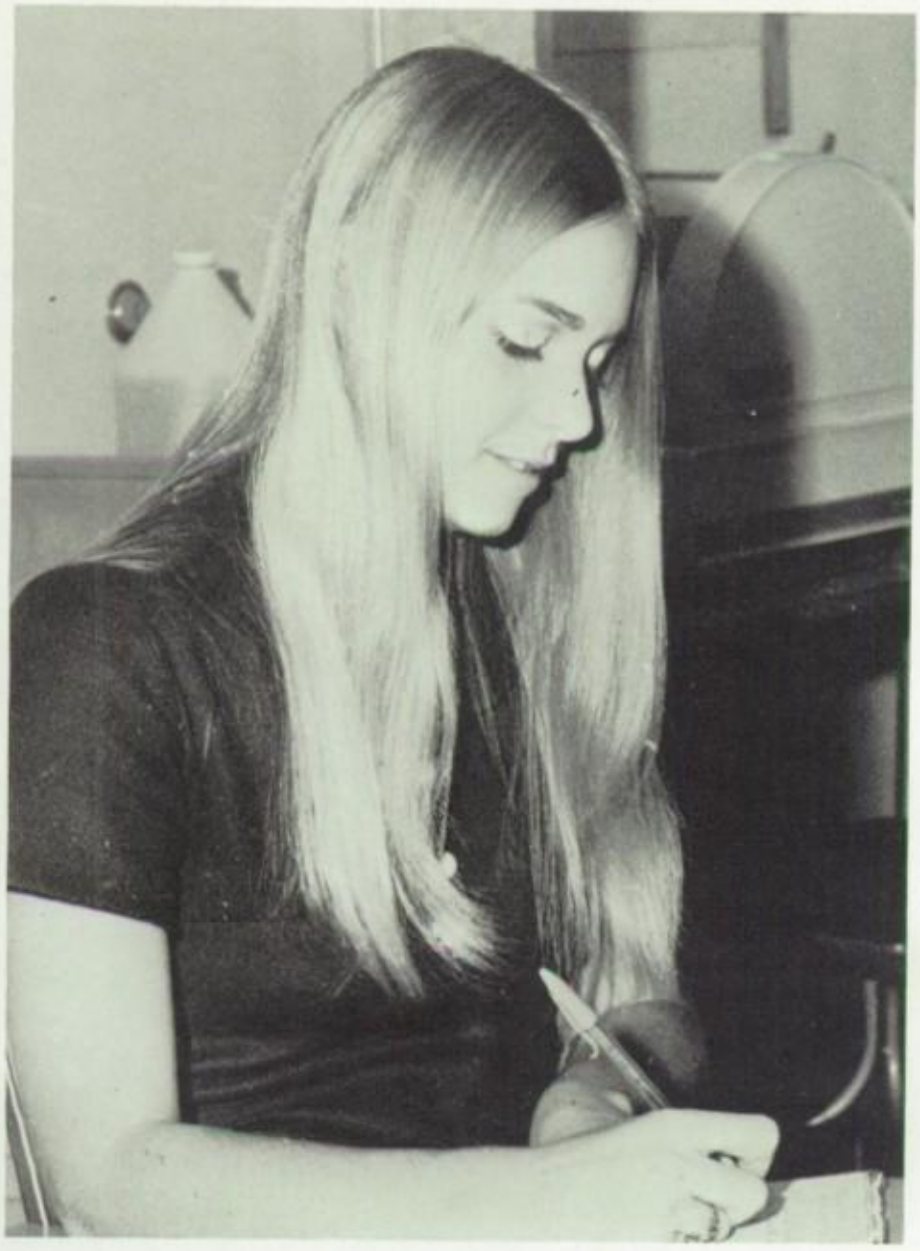
Library Club Gives Vital Services



As one of the service organizations at Sam Houston, the Library Club was mainly interested in assisting students in finding research material and familiarizing faculty as well as student body with the organization and management of a library. Club members helped with the annual inventory, collected books, library fines, arranged books and displays, and handled overdue books. They saw that shelves were orderly, issued books and maintained a quiet atmosphere.

Senior members went to the state convention in Huntsville in February for a three day convention at Sam Houston State College. Other special club activities included a Christmas party December 16 and a candy sale, which helped pay for the trip to Huntsville.

Club Tours SAC, Southwestern Bell

With the help of a new sponsor, Mrs. Rose Lindley, the Better Business Leaders conducted two money-making projects during the year. Peanut brittle was sold, and numerous cupcake sales were held.

Later in the year, members operated a school supply store in Building B with typing paper, carbon paper, pens, pencils, index cards, notebooks, and poster boards sold. In December BBL members entertained the administration and the SH business teachers with a Christmas party.

Officers for the Better Business Leaders were Annette Knappick, president; Debra Haldeman, vice-president; Betty Sue Roberts, treasurer; Stephen Sherman, reporter; and Vickey Tomasello, historian.

Members toured the USAA building and the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company to learn more about the many jobs available after graduation. A highlight of the year was a visit in November by 21 members to the business and technology department of San Antonio College.

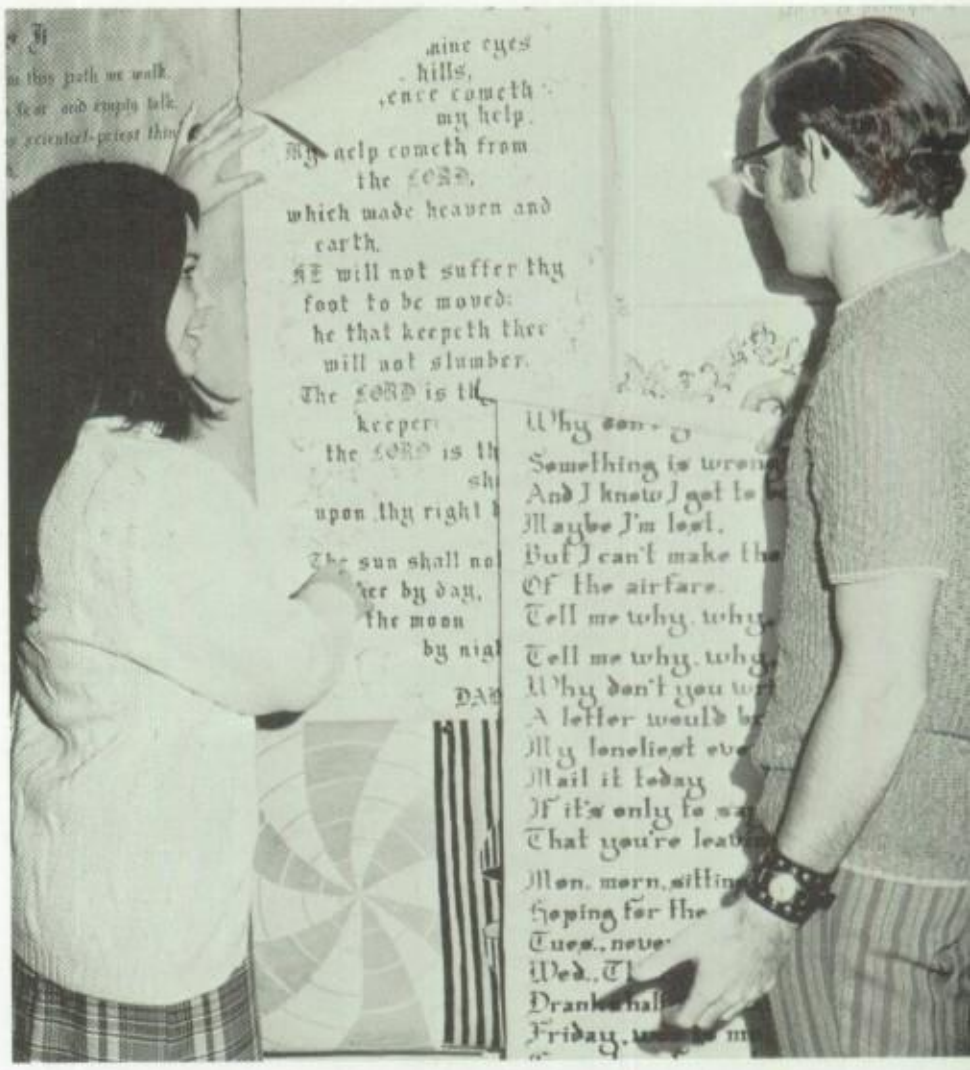
Art Club Reveals Creative Talent

Brightly colored chalk drawings and luminescent swirls of tempera paint provided scenery for the Art Club, sponsored by Miss Nancy Saffold. These were among various other projects displayed by art students. Advanced students designed landscapes and portraits in oil, while first year students created pencil sketches and life-like figures of chalk.

Members not only gained skill with the use of their hands, but they also obtained a working knowledge of art and its origin. Throughout the year, Art Club members displayed artistic ability in various contests and exhibits. Several members made posters to help arouse student interest in school and community functions. Members designed and sent hand-made Christmas cards to other local schools. Students also used their ability to design gifts of their own for special occasions.

Art Club members not only had the advantages of learning the processes of becoming an artist and craftsman, but they also became familiar with the ways in which art can be applied to everyday life.



First year art students, Joan Mantooth and Richard Montgomery, welcome comments on finished projects.

Mitzi Morris adds finishing touches to one of her paintings as she prepares to enter it in an art contest.

SH Thespians Stage 'Peter Pan'

One of the many events highlighting the year for Thespians was the production of "Peter Pan." Club members, along with local grade school children, presented the play January 8,9 in the Building A auditorium.

Lloyd Barnes and Kathy Williams, with a scene from "Amen Corner," placed first in duet acting at the Churchill speech tournament in October.

Members participated in speech contests at Edison November 23. Many competed in April in the UIL district meet in duet acting, extemporaneous, informative, and persuasive speaking, poetry interpretation, or prose reading.

Thespians developed persuasiveness, creativity, and talents as they added to their list of achievements. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Shirley Davis during the first semester and Miss Amy La Presto during the second, club members learned to work cooperatively with other actors. In May the group won a national certificate of recognition for a variety show presented for the regional Thespians' conference.

Thespian Club officers were Clyde James, president; Joe Arzola, vice-president; Marsha Whitener, secretary-treasurer; Kathy Williams, reporter; and Kenneth Erceg, head of the light crew.

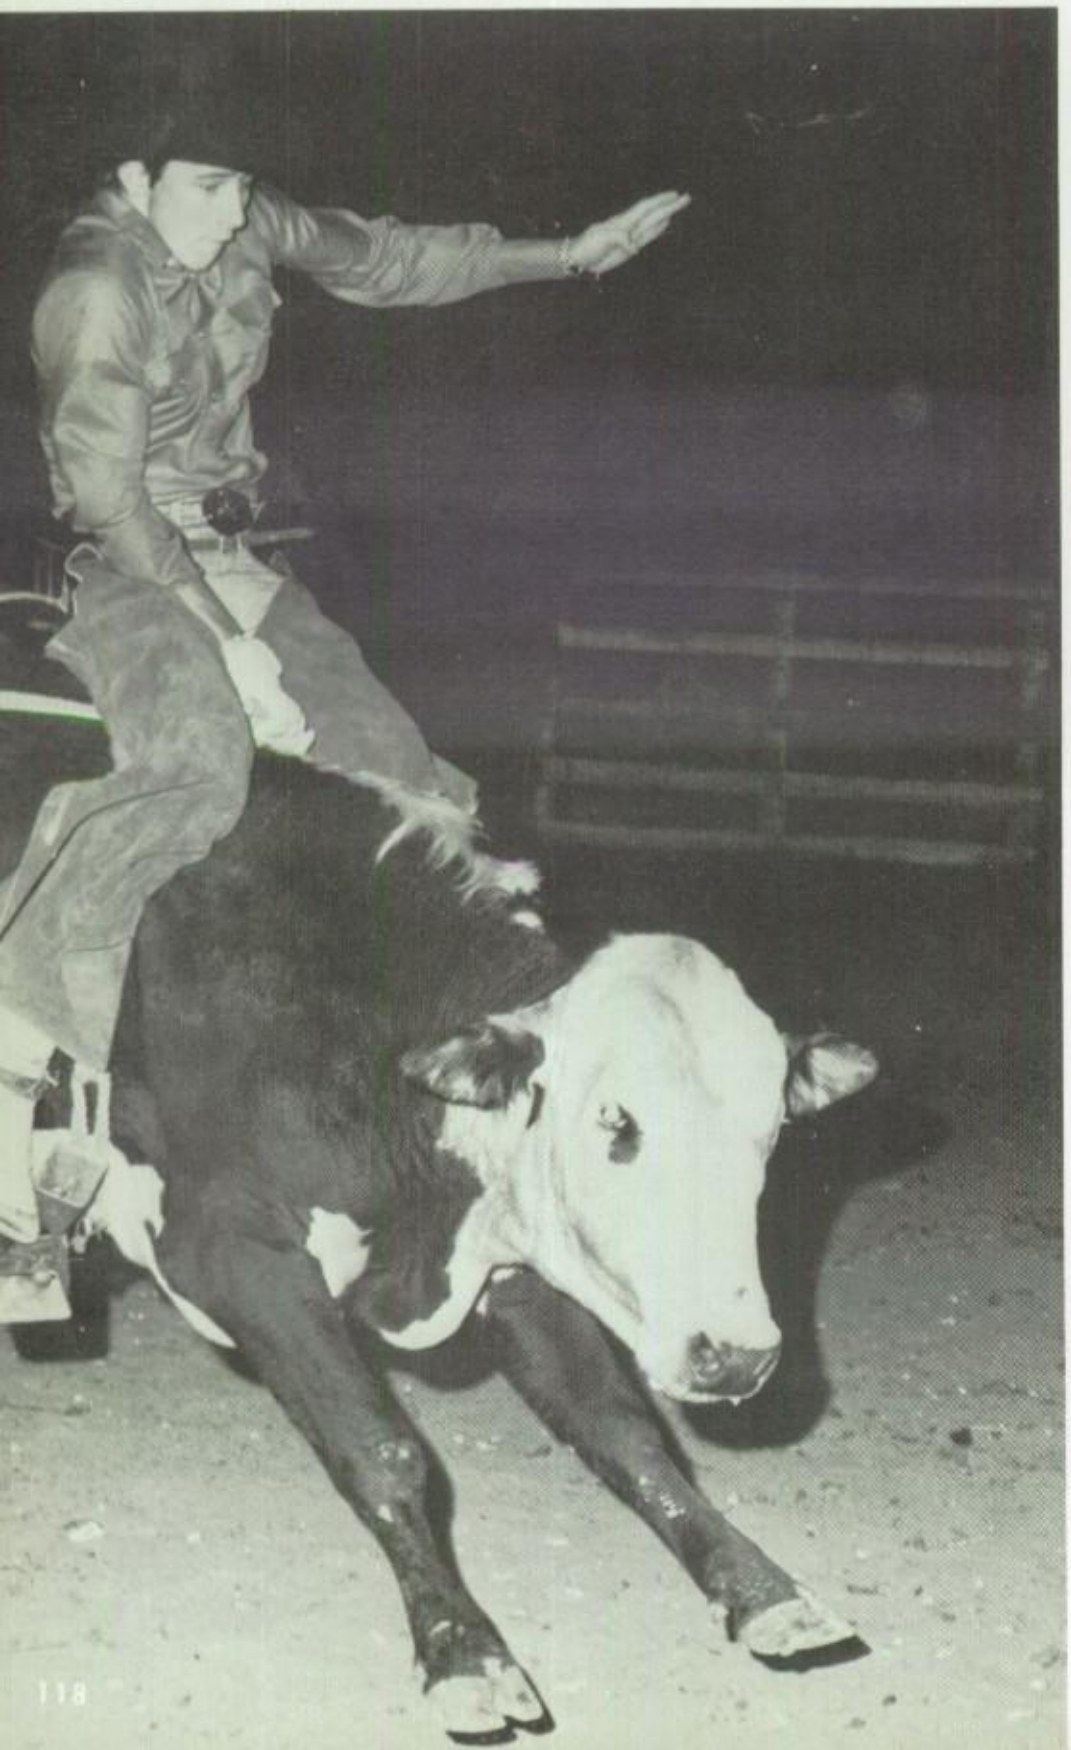
Rodeo Club Sponsors Dance, Rodeo

No matter which dance hall one hit, he could bet he would find a group of fun-lovin' kickers from Sam Houston's Rodeo Club. Along with the fun that came from being a kicker, much hard work was a part of members' responsibilities. Working horses, tending cows, riding bulls, and preparing for rodeos kept kickers busy.

A December hayride, which wound through the back roads of St. Hedwig, was a highlight of winter activities. In February came the annual Stock Show and Rodeo. Members welcomed trail riders with a hearty "WELCOME" sign on the windows of Building II. With March came the club's rodeo with students from San Antonio's surrounding areas participating. April brought a donkey baseball game, and May featured the Rodeo Club banquet. The second and fourth Wednesday mornings of the month were meeting dates for the club.



Officers were Ronnie Wilson, president; Michele Hall, vice-president; Margie Padalecki, secretary-treasurer; Cindy Land, recording secretary; Richard Hahnel, sergeant-at-arms; Richard Turner, chaplain. Emerald Guard Girls Drill, Parade

In its second year of existence the Emerald Guard, girls' drill team, had two commanders. Shelley Darden resigned at mid-term and was succeeded by Maria Gutierrez. Other officers were Kindel Johnson, executive commander; Linda Dilworth, Ruth Suniga, Evangelin Mancillas, and Gloria Castillo, first lieutenants; Linda Thomas, guidon bearer. The girls were instructed by Mike McMillion and Robert Barnes. Miss Caroyl Green sponsored the group.

The girls ushered at SH's basketball games, marched in the Fiesta Flambeau night parade, and ushered at the symphony concert at Hemisfair Plaza. The drill team entered competition April 13 at St. Mary's University. Cupcake sales provided funds.

Many members and their guests attended the gala military ball April 15 at the Convention Center. Girls spent many hours practicing various maneuvers and intricate drills.

Monkey Drills Intrigue SH Cadets

Mims, Kaiser, Neitzel, and Williams listen as Sergeant Major Bayer explains the proper handling of a gun.

Under the supervision of Sergeant Major E. E. Bayer and his new assistant, First Sergeant Robert L. Foster, the 71 ROTC recruits learned the meaning of responsibility, leadership, and discipline.

ROTC cadets dutifully performed the tasks of standing guard over the Cheroketts and band at football and basketball games. Cadets also ushered at student concerts throughout the year. Guarding the parking lots during classes was a new job added to the ROTC schedule. In reward for this extra service, Mr. Mahavier gave a cake and coke party for cadets on duty.

The study of handling weapons and techniques of military organization boosted the scores in numerous competitions. At the drill team competition at St. Mary's University November 14, SH placed fifth overall and third in basic drill. In March Federal Inspection by Army officers gave the ROTC an "Honor School" rating for satisfactorily passing all requirements.

In the spring, cadets marched in the Battle of Flowers parade. After participating in various competitions throughout the city, all cadets participated in Field Day in late May.

A candy machine in the armory and a bake sale helped raise funds for the Military Ball at the Convention Center River Room April 15. Formal commissioning of cadet officers was the highlight of the formal dance.

Officers' candidate school, a six weeks' course in leadership, drill, and performance, was used to determine next year's officers. In late May the drill team competed against other district teams in the Sports Arena of the Convention Center.

Choir Sponsors Cake, Candy Sale

"He Is Our King" was one of 20 selections sung by the a cappella choir at the first concert November 15. Choir members sold candy with profits used to help defray the expenses of a banquet held April 5 at Fort Sam Houston's NCO Club.

The choir performed at local hospitals and churches. In December a Christmas program was given at Lackland Air Force Base. Fifteen members entered UIL solo competition at San Antonio College. Joe Arzola and Michael McMillion received first place ratings. A madrigal group consisting of Irma Williams, Olanda Keith, Theresa Brown, Deborah Jones, Faye Butler, Linda Green, Joe Arzola, Leroy Johnson, and Archie Price also received first place ratings. The concert choir competed with other local schools March 30.

Members of the choir participated in the baccalaureate service with seniors performing graduation ceremonies. During National Music Week the a cappella choir gave a concert at the Second Baptist Church.

Officers were Faye Butler, president; Karyne Jones, vice-president; Michael Adkins, secretary; Dale Stewart, treasurer; Leroy Johnson, sergeant-at-arms.

Cherokee Band Displays Pride, Talent, Spirit

As the drum major's whistle blew, stomachs churned and hearts beat faster, for the first half-time show of the new year had begun. The Cherokee Band, displaying pride and talent, strutted down the field in military green and white uniforms. Sparkle and shine were added to the band as the front line performed flashy twirling routines. Featured at the South San game, majorettes gave an exciting exhibition of fire twirling.

Under the direction of Mr. Wesley Black, the new director, the band worked diligently to produce entertaining halftime shows and other performances of top quality. Activities in which the band participated included football halftime shows, concerts, Battle of the Band, and appearances at a children's ward and old age home. The band took part in the Veterans' Day Parade November 11 and also in the Battle of Flowers Parade during Fiesta Week.

Holmes High School was the March 26 location for the UIL concert-sightreading contest, at which the SH band received a third division in both concert and sightreading.

Putting aside work for awhile, band members retreated to Mayan Dude Ranch April 24 for a day of fun and relaxation. Members enjoyed the western atmosphere of a barbecue, horseback riding, swimming, and various other activities. A banquet was held May 22 at Sheraton Motor Inn for band members and their guests.

Climax of the year was the spring concert at which seniors received gifts, and out-going officers announced new officers, drum major, and majorettes for the coming year.

Officers Set Leadership Example

Jane Ginther, Cherokett colonel, leads the pep squad in yells, hand routines, and halftime shows.

Cheroketts, Sam Houston's pepsquad, had a very active year. Along with boosting spirit, Cheroketts took time on week nights to perform and serve refreshments at Fort Sam Houston for G.I.'s.

Attracting the eyes of the spectators, a cheerleader mascot, petite 5 year old, blonde haired, blue-eyed, Missy Steubing, along with the cheerleaders, led chants and yells.

Cheroketts sold ribbons and spirit buttons to help finance activities, such as the All Sports Banquet. Johnny Moore, TV sportscaster, was guest speaker for the girls and athletes. Also he was made an honorary Cherokett and given a spirit button during the SH - Brackenridge basketball game.

Cheroketts also sponsored a senior trip and sold tickets to the FCA-Cherokett basketball game held in the gym. In November, 25 girls, with the help of the Cadence Callers, participated in a style show sponsored by Montgomery Ward. Marching with Highlands' Brigade was a new experience for Cheroketts. The girls performed a joint halftime show combining the bands and pep squads of both schools.

At the annual Green and White Banquet May 3 at the Fort Sam NCO Club, the scholarship award and most valuable officer award was presented to Jane Ginther. Most valuable Cherokett award went to Cathy Liu. Betty Sue Roberts, master sergeant, was voted most valuable Sammie. All graduating seniors were presented mums.

For the first time a card section was developed by the 120 Sammies. Adding an attraction to the football games, the card routines were new entertainment for spectators.

Sammies was an organization of girls made up mostly of freshmen and sophomores. Their goal was to build themselves up so that one day they would become Cheroketts. In the spring Sammies learned dance routines in preparation for Cherokett tryouts held April 28.

Working daily with B-team cheerleaders, the girls learned chants and yells. They proved their worth to Cherokee spirit by participating at pep rallies and doing yells at games. Many spirit posters painted by the girls decorated SH halls.

Sammies also helped the pep squad financially. They sold candy and spirit buttons, which contributed favorably to the Cheroketts' fund.

At the Green and White Banquet, held May 3, Betty Sue Roberts was awarded most valuable Sammie.

OUR MIGHTY WARRIORS CHARGED ON WITHOUT A RETREAT.
TO KEEP ALIVE THE PRIDE OF THE CHEROKEE NATION,
OUR BRAVES KEPT UP THEIR FINE REPUTATION.
AND ONCE THEIR YEARLY ATTACK HAD BEGUN
OUR OPPONENTS WERE DEFEATED ONE BY ONE.

Coaches, Captains Work Together;

Highlight of the Cherokee Season was defeating top-ranked McCollum in a district tilt. The Cowboys made a clean sweep of district play except for this mar by the Braves. Sam Houston's season record was 6-4 with the district tally 5-2. SH's All-District players were R. Smith, Carpenter, and Finley. Smith also made All-City. Payne, Tyrone, Quijano, and Williams received honorable mention. Coach Crocker commented, "The team played well overall. With a couple of breaks, the Cherokees could have gone all the way. The boys could have played better, but injuries to key players throughout the season hampered them and kept them from playing consistently well."

SH Shows Skill

SH VS MOODY SEPTEMBER 12

Corpus Christi Moody downed the Braves 12-7 in the final 56 seconds of the season opener. Trojan Greg Clark pounced on a fumble by Moody's Joe Alegado. Stanton passed to Williams twice for long gains. Then a penalty moved the ball to the one, where the Braves fumbled. Trojan Willie Kent ran six yards for Moody's first TD. PAT was no good. Then Lucky Porter ran over from the one to climax an 83 yard march. Cherokees' only TD came on a Stanton to Jackson 80-yard pass, run combination. Russell's PAT was good.

SH VS MARSHALL SEPTEMBER 19

Defense was the key to the Cherokees 7-3 victory over the Rams. A 49-yard pass to Millett from Stanton put the Braves on the scoreboard. Russell's PAT was good. In the second and third quarters, Millett ran to pay dirt only to have the TD's called back on penalties. Cherokees held off several determined assaults by the Rams, and it wasn't until the final quarter that Marshall quarterback Mike Ferlet kicked a 28-yard field goal, which climaxed a 48-yard six-play drive.

Against Rivals

SH VS CARROLL SEPTEMBER 26

Cabiness Field in Corpus Christi was a sea of mud as the Tigers defeated the Cherokee 8-6. Tigers scored early in the second period on Lupe Guiterrez's run. PAT was no good. Later, Rich Johnson burst through the Cherokee line to block Woodall's kick and add two more points to the Tiger tally. Halftime score was 8-0. After the half, Payne ran 89 yards untouched through the mire for the Braves' only TD. Fumbles, interceptions, and penalties plagued both teams.

SH VS HARLANDALE OCTOBER 2

Cherokees carved a second notch in the totem pole by stomping the Harlandale Indians 15-6 in the first district tilt. Late in the second period Payne put the Braves on the scoreboard with a four-yard run. Watkin's PAT was good. With 1:16 left in the half, Rene Morin caught a 46-yard pass for the Indians' only TD. Their two-point conversion attempt failed. Cherokees led 7-6 at halftime. In the third period, Millett scored on a fourth down play. Watkins juggled the pass from center but recovered for a two-point pass to Williams.

SH Breaks Even

SH VS BURBANK OCTOBER 7

Cherokee Braves painted the Bulldogs victory green by trampling them 33-8 in a District 30-AAAA bout. SH broke a scoreless tie in the second quarter when Stanton hit Carpenter with a 50-yard pass. Two plays later Millett swept around left end for the second TD. Finley intercepted and ran 42 yards with less than one minute left in the half. Payne ran for the TD.

In the second half Valdez intercepted and ran 70 yards to score. Russell's third PAT of the night was good. Burbank's only TD came when Ed Martinez scored on a seven yard run. Two-point conversion was good.

SH VS BRACKENRIDGE OCTOBER 16

Defense was the name of the game as Brackenridge's Eagles turned a fourth quarter blocked punt into a 6-2 victory. Defense held both teams scoreless in the first half. In the third period, Randle and Winters tackled Eagle halfback Leslie Martin in the end zone for a safety. The winning play came when Woodall was sent in to punt on a third and 17 play. Eagle linebacker Ernest Mitchell broke through the line to block the boot and recover the loose ball in the end zone for the winning TD.

In District Play

SH VS HIGHLANDS OCTOBER 24

In a hard fought tilt, the Owls defeated the Braves 22-14 in a district match. Over 5,000 sun-drenched fans watched quarterback Lopez complete 12 of 17 passes. The Owls went 20 yards in five plays to score their first TD.

The second quarter belonged to the Cherokees, who scored twice. A fumble ended in Payne's hands at the Highland's eighth, and Lopez passed to Randle to put the Tribe on the board. Russell's PAT was good to tie the score. Lopez passed to Jackson, and the Cherokees were ahead 14-7 at halftime. Denny Peel passed to Henry Crawford for an Owl TD, followed by a two-point pass play. With 25 seconds left to play, Freddie Coleman pilfered the ball and scored another Owl six pointer.

SH VS SOUTH SAN OCTOBER 30

He hit Carpenter with scoring aerials good for 43 and 10 yards. Jackson kicked the conversion after each TD.

South San had opened the scoring with a 36 yard field goal, then scored in the third quarter on a six yard run by John Carreon. Stanton completed 14 passes for 143 yards.

SH VS McCOLLUM NOVEMBER 6

Cherokees scored late in the first quarter and played heads-up defensive ball to hand McCollum a 7-6 defeat. The Cowboys lost only this game as they marched to the district championship. After Smith recovered a Cowboy fumble in the first quarter, Winters crashed over from the one yard line to make the score 6-0. Jackson's PAT was good for the winning margin. Cowboys scored in the second quarter on an eight yard run by tailback, David Ayala. Todd Williamson's pass on the two-point conversion attempt was incomplete. McCollum's fourth quarter threat was spoiled by Valdez's two pass interceptions.

SH VS EDISON NOVEMBER 14

Sam Houston scalped the Edison Bears 20-6 in the final district clash. Valdez set up the Cherokees' three TD's by breaking loose with long punt returns of 35, 20, and 28 yards. Payne broke over the right tackle from the 13 yard line to put the Braves on the scoreboard. Jackson's PAT was good. Carpenter caught a Stanton aerial at the 37 yard line and dashed down the sideline to paydirt. Jackson's PAT was good. Stanton hit Jackson with a 39 yard TD pass to complete SH's 20 points. The Bears moved into scoring territory several times, but the tough Cherokee defense held. Finally, Otto Jones made connections on four consecutive passes; then Kevin Ott ran over to tally six points for the Bears.

JV's Win District

Developing technique and gaining experience, the junior varsity showed determination and power as a prime scouting place for the future varsity. The Little Braves had seven wins and two losses. While amassing a total of 180 points, the JV's only allowed their opponents to score 50 points. Outstanding players were Outland, Cavazos, Eddington, and Williams. The defense was led by Franklin and DeVaughn. The gaining offense was led by Sherrod and Glass. Coach Peel commented, "Our successful season was due to a lot of hard work and dedication on the part of the players." Coach Hornsby, a newcomer to SH and assistant to Peel, added, "The boys worked hard, took pride in their positions, and maintained a winning attitude."

PE Students Vie in Many Sports

To maintain physical fitness, as well as to gain proficiency in various team sports, physical education students played volleyball, softball, basketball, badminton, and soccer. Tumbling and wrestling were also popular activities in the gym.

Physical fitness tests were given in the fall and again in the spring to determine the rate of improvement made by students. As tests rolled around, students discovered muscles they never knew they possessed. Under watchful eyes of the physical education staff, students developed muscles so that they no longer ached.

Playing skill, and team coordination were important results of physical educaton. All freshmen and sophomores took PE or a substitute course, while many others chose the subject as an elective.

Joe Williams practices broad jumping for his PE exam while Willie Stone and other class members watch.

Lettermen Sponsor Worthy Projects

Supporting the athletic department in all phases, the H-Club was organized of SH male lettermen. Composed of all athletes who lettered in any sport, the club, under the supervision of Coaches Glen Crocker and Tom Morris, tried to promote a better relationship between athletes and the student body.

Athletes, chosen on the basis of ability and participation in football, golf, basketball, track, tennis, and baseball participated in various activities. Club projects included a January 26 film of football highlights and the sale of football cushions. Lettermen defeated the faculty in an H-Club sponsored basketball game April 2.

Cheroketts and Sammies honored lettermen at the All Sports Banquet April 2 in the SH cafeteria. Football awards were given to Lionel Payne, best back, and Russell Smith, best lineman. In basketball Ronald Williams received the title of best offensive player, while Larry Miles was named best defensive player.

Huddle Group Betters Community

Cleaning the area from school to the intersection of IH 10 and East Houston Street was the first activity of the year for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Boys sold tickets to "The Cross and the Switchblade," which was shown at Cinema II in North Star Mall March 3-16. Cheroketts entered into the action when they clashed with the FCA in a basketball game January 26. During Fiesta in April, the huddle group sold tickets for the Fiesta Parade.

Officers for the year were Bill Stanton, captain; Joel Lopez, co-captain; Lewis Alexander, secretary-treasurer; and Jim Blend, promotional co-chairman. Reverend Charles Kemble sponsored the group.

Huddle group met at bi-weekly meetings held alternately at night and during the noon hour. Members saw the film, "Highlights of the Kansas City Chiefs," November 9. FCA groups from McCollum, Judson, and Edison were guests of the Sam Houston chapter April 5. Boys saw Highlights of the Cotton Bowl game of 1971 between Texas University and Notre Dame. Afterwards they played basketball. A one day retreat held at the McCreless Ranch May 15 was attended by representatives from all FCA groups in the city.

Attired in tradition gowns, Senior Class officers anticipate graduation: Booker Tyrone, president; Alfred Quijano, vice-president; Carolyn Evans, secretary; Virginia Morris, treasurer; Joe Srubar, parliamentarian; Jan George, Chaplain.

Seniors Accept Responsibilities

Members of the Sam Houston graduating class of '71 opened the pages to a new life. As they looked back to past high school years, they no longer regretted those hard hours of study which helped prepare them for beginning new experiences.

Most precious of all school years to these 451 young men and women was the senior year. After the pleasant sensation of donning caps and gowns for annual pictures November 3, seniors began to anticipate commencement. Ordering graduation invitations February 4 and cap and gowns February 19 reassured seniors that graduation was near. The senior gift to the school was a velour roped railing to encircle the seal in the main hall, along with a covering and a planter box for the outside bulletin board.

College-bound students were offered entrance examinations that included The College Board Test, American College Test, and the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Senior girls took the Bell Telephone Test in January and the Betty Crocker Test in December.

Pep rallies, football games, and proms were included in the school year. "Let the Sun Shine In" themed the Junior-Senior Prom April 30 at the USAA Building. "Mickey and the Soul Generation" and "The Obo Reed Bandits" provided the music for the gaily decorated dance. After completion of finals, class members celebrated at the annual senior picnic May 21 at Landa Park in New Braunfels.

Following the Baccalaureate Service May 23, seniors donned caps and gowns for commencement exercises May 26 at the Municipal Auditorium. With the help of the administration and faculty, who aided seniors obtain the knowledge and understanding needed to carry the heavy responsibilities of adult life, another group was added to the outside world to open a new and different chapter in the book of life.

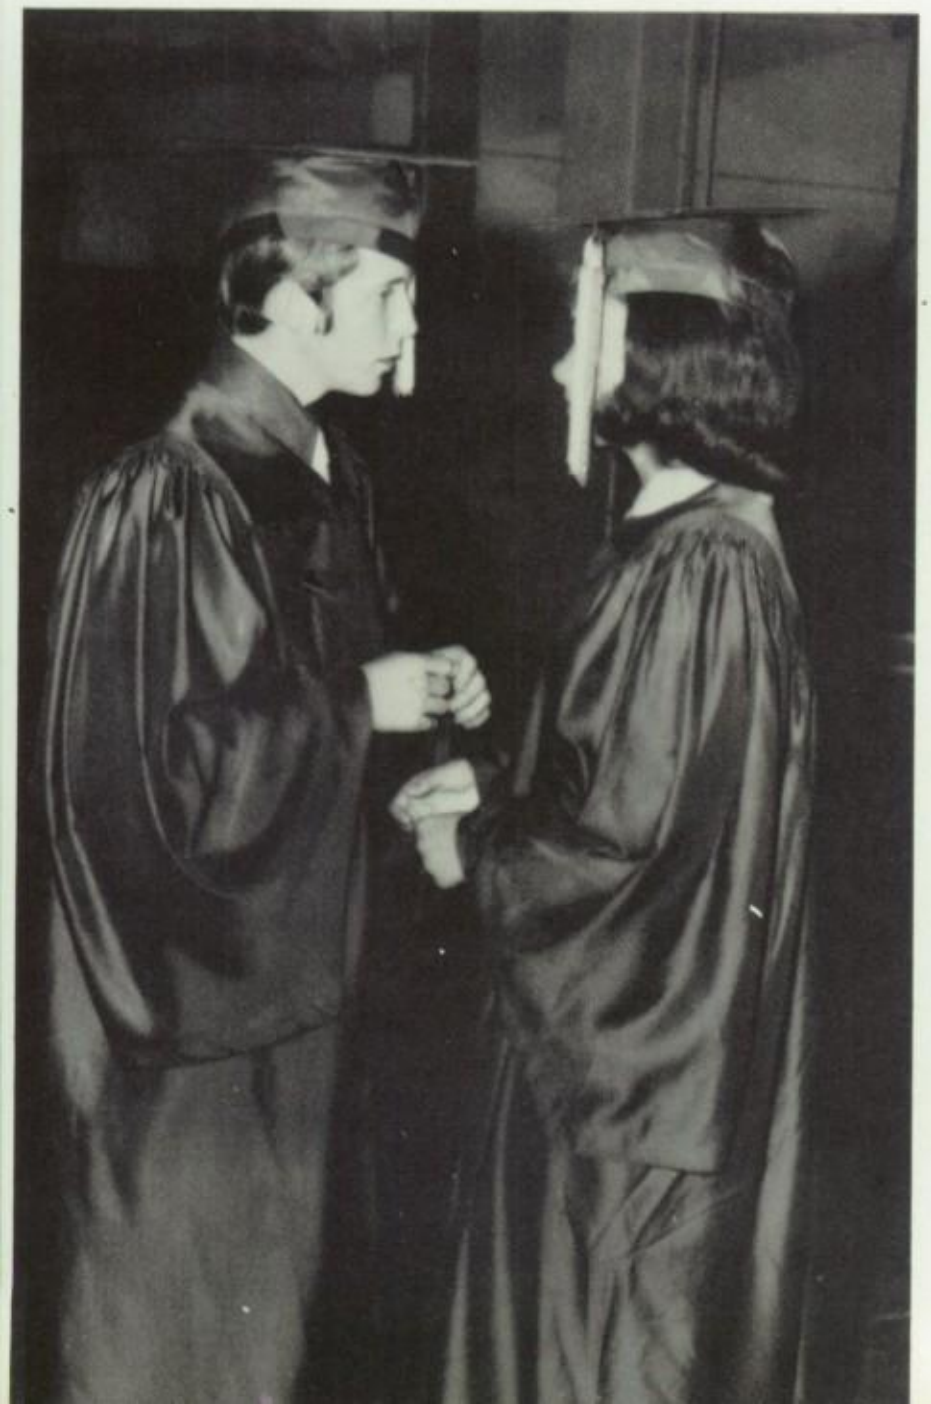
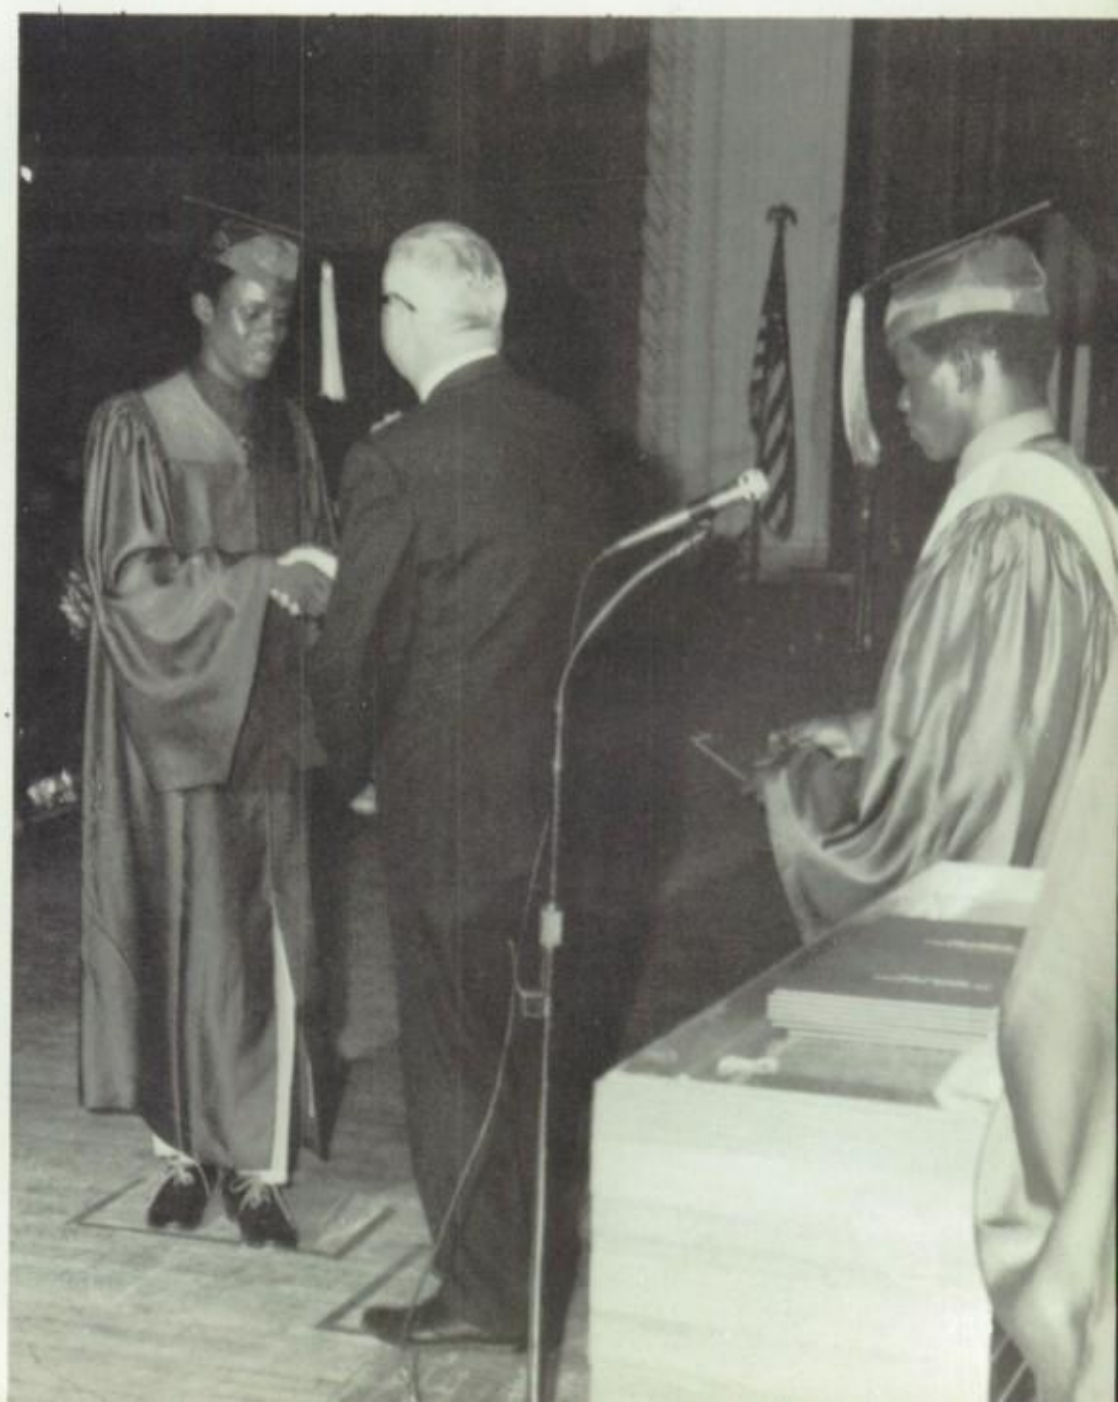
'We Made It,' Shout Seniors '71





Highlighting the year for many members of the Junior Class was the Junior-Senior Prom April 30 at the USAA Building. The dance was themed to "Let the Sun Shine In" with music provided by Mickey and the Soul Generation and the Obo Reed Bandits.

Sponsored by Mrs. Karen Koehn and Mr. Daryl Hardman, juniors carried out several projects to raise money for the prom. Among them was a December movie, "Dial M for Murder," the sale of Amway scented candles, and a tricycle race in April.

Dependability in service was acknowledged by fellow classmates and teachers. Taking an active part in clubs, organizations, and sports, juniors held various offices. They found many courses difficult, but keen-minded students industriously burned midnight oil in such difficult courses as American literature, American history, algebra or geometry, foreign languages, and business courses. They were divided into two units, college preparatory or business and technical, according to their future plans.

Concentrating on honor roll status and aspiring to become members of honor societies, students worked to raise scholastic standards. As a reward for their efforts, 39 members of the Junior Class were initiated into the National Honor Society.

Juniors took part in many extra-curricular activities. The Class of '72 took the spirit stick in the Color Day pep rally. Anne Mooney and Richard Hahnel won prizes for the Most Spirited Girl and the Most Spirited Boy during Spirit Week.

Through the year juniors contributed fresh ideas and worthy accomplishments to school activities. As the school year drew to a close, juniors received their senior rings. They eagerly looked forward to meeting the challenge of becoming the Class of '72.

In their second year of high school, sophomores found themselves still housed on both sides of Houston Street. The separation of students in Building A and Building B created problems for sophs as they hurried to get to class on time.

Becoming well acquainted with extra-curricular activities, class members participated in clubs and sports. Cheroketts, band, ROTC, and various athletics produced an atmosphere of enthusiasm and excitement as well as a competitive spirit among fellow classmates and neighboring schools. Foreign language clubs, Student Council, and a newly formed club, Wantu Wazuri, provided a fresh outlook. The Miles for Children Walk and the Walk-a-thon, sponsored by the March of Dimes, enabled sophs to participate in community affairs. Many took part in the initial Urban Coalition Group.

A high scholastic average was the primary goal of many students. In English II many discovered more about each other through the construction of colleges. In biology drugs was a topic of discussion. World history gave an insight into the past. For electives sophs chose art, typing, homemaking, drafting, and chorus. Students took P.E. for the last time. Many also found time for driver's education with the simulator to make driving problems more realistic.

Sophs sold class pins, while their treasury was further augmented by prize money from the Spirit Signing Contest. Other money-making projects kept funds intact.

Miss Joan Cory and Mrs. Carolyn Pylant guided the spirited class throughout the year. Sophs looked forward to becoming the big chiefs on the Cherokee Reservation.

"Have a heart! Get your tickets to the Freshman Class Valentine's day dance!" For the first time in recent SH history frosh sponsored an all-school dance. The "Giant Smiling Dog" pounded out the beat for Cherokee sweethearts.

Although September presented freshmen a new way of life, they soon became a contributing part of SH. Their enthusiasm was noted at pep rallies and assemblies, while many took part in the "Miles for Children Walk," sponsored by the March of Dimes. Frosh further exhibited school spirit as they participated in freshman band, Sammies, junior athletics, and the ROTC. Class members sold refreshments to spectators at freshman basketball games.

Frosh instructors put experimental teaching methods into use. English I classes were held outdoors, while, art students traveled to Ursuline Academy on Saturdays for special art instruction. Other members of the class journeyed to Trinity University to witness the production of Shakespeare's play "Hamlet."

Miss Vicki Porter and Mrs. Martha Sullivan sponsored the second largest class at SH. Although freshmen found themselves on the bottom rung of the underclassmen ladder, they were a valuable part of the SH student body. Eyeing the hectic sophomore year awaiting them, freshmen fondly looked back on their exciting first year at SH.

ADS

SOLICITORS CONTRACTED ADS ON FOOT AND BY CAR
TO MAKE OUR CHEROKEE THE GREATEST BY FAR.
THEY ENTICED MERCHANTS TO PROVIDE FINANCIAL AID
SO DEBTS FOR OUR ANNUAL COULD EASILY BE PAID.
BUT THE SALE OF THESE ADS WAS ONLY THE START;
PREPARING AD PAGES WAS THE HARDEST PART.
SO WITH PENCILS AND RULERS, AD MANAGERS BEGAN TO DRAFT THEIR PAGES BY A SENSIBLE PLAN.
THE CHEROKEE STAFFERS OWE A BIG "JOB WELL DONE" TO THE ADVERTISING DEPARTMENT OF '71.

INVOLVEMENT

... an important word on Trinity Hill where confrontation is a daily occurence between promising students and a concerned faculty.

A Trinity student is INVOLVED in planning his own degree program ... in self-government ... in dialogue courses ... in independent research ... and in extra-curricular activities.

At Trinity, education is a personal adventure.

Small classes, limited enrollment, individual attention, a distinguished faculty, and financial help for those who qualify.

WE'VE JUST BLAZED THE TRAIL
FROM SEPTEMBER TO MAY,

THERE'S NOT MUCH LEFT FOR OUR
CHEROKEE TO SAY.

AND SO THIS SMOKE SIGNAL MUST BE OUR LAST -

THE '71 YEAR IS NOW A PART OF OUR PAST!!!

Retrospect

Beginning a new decade, 1970-71 unfolded many outstanding events. Americans again walked on the moon and established the position of the United States in the Space Age. The March conviction of Lieutenant William Calley caused national unrest. Though the Viet Nam situation still caused death and destruction, President Nixon began to bring American boys home. Receiving the right to vote in national elections, 18 year olds gained more responsibility and voice in government affairs. The local POW campaign saw thousands of San Antonians involve themselves in an effort to have prisoners released from Viet Nam.

SH campus underwent changes as the year progressed with clubs and classes organized in the fall with a full calendar of events unfolding. The new administration revised the curriculum with an organization of deans and counselors into the foundation, business and technical, and college preparatory divisions, to better qualify students to enter the world of college or business. SHers saw only trial periods of this revision, but it promised to be successful. After a year of involvement in local and national affairs, students found themselves leaving the campus one rung up the ladder to success. Seniors, after 12 years of study, began a new life in an adult world. Another senior, Mr. R. K. Shafer, SH's principal, retired after 15 years of service to our school. With thoughts of his leadership, students will joyfully remember the good and bad times of their high school years. And for these memories of him, we say, "Thank you."
